PROBLEMS RISE AS LEAGUE WAITS FOR REPLIES TO APPEAL

Delegates Concerned Over Possible Agreement Between Mussolini and Hitler and von Starhemberg's Congratulations to Il Duce for Victories—Selassie Says War Only Begun

GENEVA, March 4 (AP). — Two international problems caused speculation at Geneva tonight, as League of Nations delegates awaited Italian and Ethiopian replies to an appeal for peace. The expectation generally was that Premier Mussolini, declared the aggressor in the East African war, would not flatly reject the appeal.

NEW ANXIETIES

The new elements of anxiety in League circles concerned principally these points:

1. Failure to find peace terms might drive Il Duce into an agreement with Chancellor Hitler.

2. Some circles questioned the propriety of the action of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, Austrian Vice-Chancellor, in telegraphing congratulations to Premier Mussolini over recently reported Fascist victories on the Northern Ethiopian front.

FRANCE IS RESTLESS

PARIS, March 4 (AP). — Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin has appealed to Premier Mussolini to accept quickly League of Nations peace negotiations, a well-informed source said tonight.

Flandin instructed the French Ambassador to Rome to tell Il Duce, this source said, that France would be "unable to intercede for Italy again at Geneva without seriously compromising her political situation in Europe."

ARRIVES IN ROME

ALLEGED SPY ON HIS TRIAL

Hermann Gortz' Own Letters Used Against Him at Old Bailey

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—A middle-aged German lawyer-writer, Dr. Hermann Gortz, accused of espionage upon the Royal Air Force, heard documents read in Old Bailey Court today implicating him in spying against American air forces during the Great War.

The trial, Great Britain's first for espionage since the war, saw the defendant blink when he heard his own description of himself as a "dangerous intelligence officer" turned against him.

GAVE HIS RECORD

The Crown presented a document Gortz had written to the German Government describing his intelligence work during the war and mentioning that he lived for a year and a half in the United States and three and one-half years in London.

During that period, the letter said, he was "again in contact with English and American war-time aviators," and "I am even now still in touch with military aviators on the active list, or I probably can get in touch with them again."

The Crown said Gortz applied in 1930 to the German Air Ministry for a job as a spy, but was refused.

"PARTICULARLY DANGEROUS"

One document quoted Gortz as saying of his Great War service: "On two American Air Force officers who were shot down was found a warning referring to me as a particularly dangerous intelligence officer and containing an exact description of me."

Gortz was arrested last November at Harwich. He was aided in espionage activities at British airfields, the prosecution charges, by an attractive young woman, who fled the country. Dr. Gortz pleaded not guilty to charges against him.

WILL FLY ON MERCY ERRAND

Pilot "Ginger" Coote to Rescue Sick Trapper in North Thompson Area

On a mercy errand, Pilot "Ginger" Coote will make a hazardous flight from Williams Lake this morning to a small rude cabin on Angus Horne Lake in the mountain country of the North Thompson Valley, where Dan Crowley, well-known Interior trapper, is alone, suffering from frozen feet and gangrene. The man will be flown to Williams Lake for medical treatment.

Pilot Coote's plane is equipped with skis and Police fear difficulty will be encountered in landing the machine. Should it be considered impossible to land the plane safely, Provincial Police headquarters have instructed Inspector John Shirras, at Kamloops, to send out a ground party and dog teams from Blue River.

EXHAUSTED BY TRIP

Crowley's partner, E. M. Vachon, almost exhausted from three days of trekking through the snow and rugged country, reached Blue River yesterday morning and notified Constable George Clarke of his partner's serious plight.

Owing to Crowley's dire condition, it was deemed advisable to send in an airplane, and radio messages were dispatched to Interior points as a machine equipped with skis was necessary. All available planes at Vancouver are equipped with wheels or pontoons and could not land on lakes in the Interior owing to soft ice.

Major D R McLaren, Vancouver, superintendent of the Canadian Airways, communicated with Pilot Coote, who agreed to make the flight when his motor was repaired this morning. The flyer will pick up Vachon at Mud Lake as a guide.

AUSTRALIA TO ADD TO FORCES

Commonwealth to Expand Defences Following Lead Of Great Britain

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 4 (CP Cable via Reuters).—Prime Minister J. A. Lyons today indicated Australia's defence expenditures will be augmented, following publication of the British Government's White Paper on expansion of Britain's defences.

He told a deputation here it was impossible to promise cuts in taxation until a decision had been made on the defence question.

Official circles predicted the defence expenditure in the Commonwealth was likely to exceed the estimated figure of £7,000,000 (about $35,000,000).

Dr. Lyon said the White Paper would have "a very important effect" on Australia's policy.

To Dig for Gold Beneath Halifax

HALIFAX, March 4 (AP).—T. R. H. Hyland thinks there is gold down under the city of Halifax and he's going to start digging. He has made application to the Provincial Department of Mines for permission to dig for minerals in the Richmond district.

Famous Old Landmark Being Demolished

Wreckers yesterday started on the demolition of the old Colwood Hotel, shown above, which was erected forty-five years ago, when the horse and buggy was the most popular form of transportation. In those days Colwood was the centre of steeplechasing, and the Colwood Hotel entertained many equestrians.

B. C. Legislature Told of Highway Works and Bills

Changes to Schools Act, Teachers' Bill and Other Matters Touched On in Continued Debate—Reforestation in Island Area and Corbin Inquiry Suggested

AMENDMENTS to the British Columbia Schools Act, a new teachers' bill and repetition of the Province's road programme of last year were forecast in the Legislature yesterday by members from the Government side joining in the main debate. Pleas for a definite reforestation policy with more consideration for Island resources, and a royal commission to inquire into the Corbin strike were also made during the day.

L. A. Hanna (Lib., Comox), Jack Price (C.C.F., Vancouver East) and S. S. McKeen (Lib., Vancouver-Point Grey) spoke in the debate, which was adjourned by H. E. Winch (C.C.F., Vancouver East) until 2:30 p.m. today.

L. A. HANNA, M.P.P.

British Columbia was still a fairly good place, where governmental dictators neither shot their opponents nor were shot by them, Mr. Hanna submitted. He appealed for a world outlook, and realization of Pacific opportunities and responsibilities. The Government, he said, had done fairly well, though subject to human frailties like previous ministries.

Successive governments had beaten a trail to Ottawa, but if public bodies had taken as keen an interest in their affairs twenty years ago as they did now, the Province would not be in the financial straits it was. Refunding of Provincial debt would have to come.

Mr. Hanna forecast some legislation. Amendments to the British Columbia Schools Act were coming down, and a bill for school teachers was proposed, he had heard it said. He warned the Government against any move to abolish school boards,

CUT OFF FROM HAGGIS SUPPLY

Scotsmen in Canada Unable To Import National Dish From Scotland

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—Scotsmen in Canada are in a bad way. They can get no haggis from Scotland, but, to add insult to injury, they have been told they may get them from France.

William Fraser, Liberal member for Northumberland, brought the matter to the attention of the High Court of Parliament today and asked Hon. James Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, what steps the Government proposed to take to restore to Scotsmen their ancient rites. He got no immediate answer.

CUT OFF FROM SUPPLIES

The member based his question on a letter he had received from a prominent citizen who said: "As a Scotsman born in Dumfriesshire of sheep-stealing ancestors, I am passionately fond of the national dish of Scotland, namely the haggis."

The writer went on to say he had been accustomed to import haggis for many years, but recently was informed a permit from the Department of Agriculture was required. After much correspondence he found the permit would be issued by an official in Edinburgh and after some difficulties got the permit. He ordered his haggis, but the shipment was stopped at Montreal.

IN PRISON FOR MURDER CONFESSED BY DOUBLE

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—Because two youths look enough alike to be twins, George Hayes, twenty-one, has been in the Tombs since January 8 under a charge of murder, but, tomorrow he probably will go free.

Saul Price, assistant district attorney, announced today Hayes will be released on the strength of a confession by an eighteen-year-old boy, John Farley, that he was guilty of the slaying in question.

Vancouver Medical Association Opposes Insurance Plan

VANCOUVER, March 4 (CP).—Approval of the action of the health insurance committee of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia in opposing passage of the proposed Health Insurance Bill in its present form was given tonight by a meeting of the Vancouver Medical Association. The meeting was held to hear the annual Osler lecture.

The committee reported its stand to the meeting and its action was approved by a standing vote.

Dr. C. H. Vrooman, president of the Vancouver Medical Association, was chairman.

Contest of Birds Always On Schedule

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Cal., March 4 (AP).—An army of sparrows occupied the eaves of historic San Juan Capistrano Mission today. Thus began an ancient struggle that always ends the same way—with the sparrows moving out.

On March 19, a superior number of swallows returning from Mexico and South America, will appear. There will be a short conflict and the sparrows will be evicted.

The sparrows begin to occupy the eaves the first week of March. The return of the swallows never varies from March 19.

HARTINGTON MADE UNDER-SECRETARY

Eldest Son of Duke of Devonshire Succeeds Douglas Hacking in Dominions Office

LONDON, March 4 (CP).—The Marquess of Hartington today was appointed Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Dominions, succeeding Douglas Hacking.

Hacking resigned the post owing to his appointment to succeed Lord Stonehaven as chairman of the Conservative party organization.

The Marquess of Hartington is the eldest son of the Duke of Devonshire, a former Governor-General of Canada. He is a Conservative member of Parliament for Derbyshire West.

STRIKERS IN UGLY MOOD

Show Violence While Arrangements Being Made For Peace Parley

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—With strike leaders threatening to "fight it out in the streets," building owners tonight prepared for an all-night peace parley with service union spokesmen.

First indication of an impending settlement of the strike of elevator operators and other employees, which threatened to spread its terrorism throughout the country, came from union quarters.

"It may be reached tonight," said James J. Bambrick, local head of the Building Service Employees' Union.

In a new outbreak of violence, fifty strike sympathizers set on a youth found working in an upper East Side building. The victim, Leopold Litman, twenty-two, suffered a possible fracture of the collarbone. His assailants escaped.

Other developments:

In addition to raising the threat of a country-wide strike of elevator operators, porters, heating engineers and other service unions, strike leaders claimed they could precipitate a general walkout of all organized labor in the city.

OUT OF CONTROL

Approximately 1,200 strike sympathizers, by police estimate, got out of control when officers tried to break up a demonstration in front of union headquarters late today. They were too busy eluding police, however, to cause any serious damage.

Seventy-two more buildings lost their service crews, bringing the total of strike-bound structures to 1,372 by police count. Police said 8,568 workers were out.

The Building Service Workers' Union struck suddenly last Sunday in a demand for a blanket wage increase of $2 a week, fewer working hours and closed shop agreements.

FISHING VESSEL SUNK BY RESCUER

Goes Down Rapidly After Being Rammed—Had Big Cargo of Fish Aboard

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 4 (AP).—A fishing vessel, the Friars, arrived here late today with a tale of disaster on Georges Bank. The eight members of the crew of the sunken Charles S Ashley were aboard.

The Ashley, already disabled, went down in less than an hour, Tuesday, after the Friars rammed her while trying to put aboard a line. The Ashley's crew could not salvage personal belongings before leaving the ship. No one was injured.

The Ashley had 75,000 pounds of fish aboard. An eighty-seven-foot vessel, she was built in 1927.

Missionaries Believed Safe From Attack

HONGKONG, March 4 (AP).—Defeat of rebel forces in Fukien Province, in the South, was reported today by troops under General Chang Fak Wei as word reached Peiping from the northern province of Shansi that Canadian and United States missionaries were believed safe from Communist invaders.

The rebels, estimated at 1,000, were driven back at Wingting, Fukien Province, and retreated to Woping, from where Gen. Wong Xam Wan's troops drove them further toward Kiangsi Province.

TWO NEW CASES OF SUSPECTED SABOTAGE FOUND ON WARSHIPS

Admiralty Announces Discovery of Damage to Battle Cruiser Repulse at Portsmouth and Submarine H-28 at Portland—Nature of Destruction Not Made Known

Six Recent Incidents Are Being Closely Investigated

LONDON, March 5 (CP).—The Admiralty announced early today two new cases of suspected sabotage had occurred on the battle cruiser Repulse and the submarine H-28. The Repulse was being prepared at Portsmouth to join the Mediterranean fleet. The submarine is attached to the sixth flotilla at Portland. Lord Stanley, parliamentary and financial secretary to the Admiralty, disclosed yesterday in the House of Commons that there have been recently six cases of damage or attempted damage to British warships undergoing repairs. In four of these cases, he said, sabotage was suspected.

The nature of the damages to the Repulse and the Submarine H-28 was not made known immediately.

There have been two incidents this year where sabotage was suspected to warships and two occured last Fall. In each case, the ships in question were in drydock for overhauling or repairs.

The Repulse is a 32,000-ton battle cruiser completed in 1916. She is due for replacement under the Washington Naval Treaty in 1939. One of the most powerful ships of the navy, her equipment includes six fifteen-inch guns and fifteen four-inch guns. The Repulse has a speed of 31.5 knots.

TO REPLACE SISTER SHIP

The battle cruiser was scheduled to be sent to the Mediterranean to replace her sister ship, the Renown, after present repairs in drydock were completed.

The Admiralty announced on February 25 a case of suspected sabotage on the destroyer Velox, being refitted at the Chatham Dockyard. It was understood the mine-releas-

Alberta Premier Sends SOS. Cable To Major Douglas

EDMONTON, March 4 (CP).—A cablegram sent by Premier Aberhart to Major C. H. Douglas this morning stated merely that "the Social Credit members in caucus unanimously request that you come to Edmonton as per original contract and about March 30," it was revealed tonight by the Premier. He added a request for a cabled reply. Major Douglas has intimated that he would resign as reconstruction adviser to the Alberta Government.

Taschereau Intends to Lead Again

QUEBEC, March 4 (CP).—On the eve of his sixty-ninth birthday, Premier L. A. Taschereau, of Quebec, tonight told interviewers to disregard rumors he would not lead the Government during the coming session of the Quebec Legislature.

He was glad to set at rest the uneasiness that reigned as to his immediate future, the veteran premier said. He would lead the Liberal Government during the session, which commences March 24.

SPECIAL COURT TO TRY REBELS

Twenty-Two Japanese Officers Must Answer to Treason Charge

TOKIO, March 4 (AP).—The military side of the liquidation of the Japanese emergency advanced tonight with the establishment of a special tribunal to try for treason twenty-two officers who participated in last week's coupe.

Japan's search, however, for a man to lead her from the emergency caused by the bloody revolt made no progress. Prince Konoye, forty-two-year-old aristocrat, asked the Emperor to excuse him from the "heavy responsibility" of the Premiership on grounds of health.

The Prince had been called to the palace and commanded to form a cabinet to succeed that of Premier Keisuke Okada, which was decimated by four assassinations during the rebellion.

TROOPS GO HOME

A portion of the troops which hastened to Tokio last week to suppress the revolt have returned to their home cantonments.

Tired old Prince Saionji, eighty-two-year-old statesman, faced a resumption tomorrow of the task of presenting Emperor Hirohito with a suitable candidate for the Premiership.

An imperial ordinance, approved by the Privy Council and Cabinet and sanctioned by the Emperor, authorized creation of a special military court to try the rebels.

A communique from martial law headquarters said more than 1,400 troops participated in the revolt which broke out one week ago. Previously the number had been placed at about 1,000.

King Goes North To Inspect Liner

COSTS HIGH FOR DEFENCE

British Reorganization Programme Will Mean Big Bill for John Bull

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—The huge cost of Great Britain's defence reorganization programme began to dawn today on a public still digesting details of the White Paper outlining the defence and rearmament proposals of the Government.

Members of Parliament learned that the regular defence requirements for the next fiscal year, irrespective of the special programme disclosed in the White Paper, total £155,250,000 (about $775,000,000), which is £31,000,000 more than in 1935.

ONE-FOURTH OF TOTAL

Experts estimated that the cost of the first year of defence expansion will shove the figure well above £200,000,000, or roughly one-fourth of the estimated total budget of £800,000,000.

Regular naval estimates were increased sharply today. This total, which does not include additional cost outlined in yesterday's White Paper, is £68,630,000 (about $348,150,000), or nearly £9,880,000 higher than the estimates for 1935. Supplementary estimates last year, however, increased the appropriation for that period by £4,850,000.

SOME INCREASES

Of the increased amount of nearly £10,000,000 in the current naval estimates, £4,645,000 is required to continue new construction already authorized. Expenditure on the fleet air arm is moved up by £1,082,000, exclusive of the cost of new aircraft for the ships. Provision for maintenance of the fleet calls for an increase of £3,936,000. The fleet personnel also will be expanded by 4,613.

Army estimates to be published tomorrow and those for the air force on Friday will be correspondingly higher.

Dust Storms Strike Again In Southwest

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., March 4 (AP). — "Black blizzards," dreaded scourge of the Southwest, sharply struck two sections of the United States dust bowl today, recalling memories of last year's paralyzing storms.

High east wind, sweeping in from Kansas, whipped up clouds of fine black dust in the Oklahoma Panhandle, skipped across the northwest tip of Texas and laid a heavy pall over the Pecos Valley and the Eastern Plains region of New Mexico.

OPENS INQUEST AT REVELSTOKE

Jury Inquiring Into Deaths Of Sixteen Men in Railway Accident

REVELSTOKE, March 4 (CP).—The coroner's jury inquiring into the deaths of sixteen men killed on Monday near Illecilleweat, B.C., in the crash of a runaway locomotive tender, met for half an hour today, taking evidence of a physician who examined the bodies, and of two Canadian Pacific Railway Company employees who witnessed the mishap. The inquest was adjourned then until tomorrow.

Dr. J. H. Hamilton testified as to the extent of injuries suffered by the victims, most of whom, he said, had died instantly.

TELLS OF CREW'S WORK

P. Lazzaratto, extra gang foreman at the scene of the accident, gave evidence as to work of his crew immediately before the accident. It is possible he may be recalled for further evidence tomorrow.

E. G. Bowie, Vancouver, district master mechanic, who was in the cab of a locomotive on which the railway employees were working when struck by the tender, also testified. Bowie escaped with slight scratches on his legs and ankles.

DEMONSTRATES TO JURY

Bowie demonstrated to the jury how the tender of the locomotive, which had been derailed by a snowslide, had been attached to the crane of an auxiliary engine by means of a cable, when it broke away, causing the accident.

Five men injured in the accident and brought to the hospital here were believed recovering from their injuries.

Comprehensive Plan Of Improvements Is Now Being Effected

School Grounds Are Beautified by Imaginative Landscaping and Providing of Sport Pitches Of Various Types—Other Works Planned

A PROGRAMME of improvements, even more comprehensive than that undertaken last year, by virtue of the fact that much of the ground work was laid out in 1935, is now under way in the city schools, a tour of some of the grounds disclosed yesterday.

The tour was made by Trustee Percy E. George (chairman of the buildings and grounds committee), Trustee Charles R. Bishop, Trustee Kenneth Ferguson (chairman of the finance committee), Major H. C. Hinton (buildings and grounds supervisor), and a member of the press.

Probably the most artistic development is that at Sir James

QUICK CAPTURE BY CONSTABLES

Recover Automobile, Arrest Two Juveniles Before Owner Learns Of Missing Car

Recovery of a stolen automobile, the arrest of two juveniles and the return of the car to Victoria before the owner of the vehicle knew it had been stolen, was the unusual performance of Provincial Police officers at Sidney last night.

Two youths, it is alleged, took an automobile parked in front of a bowling alley on Yates Street. They went to Sidney. Unnecessary sounding of the horn drew the attention of the police to the occupants. They were questioned and brought to Victoria police station. Not long after, the owner of the auto was located, informed his car had been stolen, recovered and the alleged thieves arrested. The two are scheduled to appear in juvenile court this morning.

Local Trades Council Wants All to Pay for Proposed Health Plan

Delegates Support Principle of Insurance for Province, but Maintain All Should Contribute—Vancouver Delegates at Meeting

REITERATING approval of the principle of health insurance for British Columbia, but maintaining all persons in the province should contribute on the basis of income, the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, at its meeting here last night, technically went on record as opposed to the measure now under debate in the Legislature.

The resolution, which will be sent to the Government today, will be confined to two main factors, i.e., "approval of health insurance" and "that all persons in the province should contribute."

MOVE TO DELAY

Sixteen delegates present divided on an amendment to the motion which, if carried, would have laid the whole question of health insurance on the table until the next meeting, or the call of the chair. The amendment was lost twelve to four. One delegate challenged the chair for a roll call of delegates and the vote on the amendment came exactly one minute before it would have been necessary to vote on an extension of time. Under the constitution the council must adjourn at 11 o'clock unless a vote to extend is carried.

Prior to the taking of the vote, Percy Bengough, secretary of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council and spokesman for the Vancouver trades delegation at yesterday's meeting with members of the Legislature, warned the Victoria group against being "jockeyed into any position that would indicate we are opposed to health insurance and the measure now before the House." He maintained there was a decided move to "split the trades union movement as against the measure."

"The most important thing we have to do at this time is to get the principle of health insurance firmly established in the province. Do not be put in the place where you condemn it."

MAY RAISE SCHEDULE

At a later stage of his general remarks on the proposals contained in the plan before the House, he intimated he had hopes that the wage level would be raised to $2,400 instead of $1,800 as proposed.

Speaking briefly on the insurance scheme, Jack Price, member for Vancouver-East, intimated the C.C.F. stand on the proposals. He said: "The sky's the limit so far as we are concerned. We should make all pay towards this scheme that is a very essential one."

In the general discussion after the Vancouver delegation had withdrawn, there was considerable opposition to the "bill" in its present form, but the oppositions were against specific items. The delegates generally favored an increase in the wage schedule from $1,800 to $2,400, but they were unanimous in the desire that all should contribute.

LEGISLATURE TOLD OF HIGHWAY WORKS

such as recommended in the educational finance report. School teachers, he said, would be well advised to forget for the present any effort to increase their power.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Specifically, Mr. Hanna recommended reduction in land taxation and lower penalties for arrears of taxation; a definite policy of forest conservation, with selective logging where applicable; sure and completed action to preserve Cathedral Grove timber as a scenic asset for the Island; the training of youth in forestry, mining and use of other natural resources; closer inspection of schools and more co-operation with school boards; elimination of obstacles in the way of trade; and settlement, if possible, of divided authority on British Columbia fishery control.

The member for Comox, who is also deputy speaker, participated in exchanges with some Independents in the House, in the course of which he taxed the member for Salmon Arm with elasticity in political viewpoints, and the third member for Victoria with a somewhat surgical outlook on economy. Denials followed, and Mr. Hanna retracted amiably.

ISLAND ASSETS

Turning to Vancouver Island matters, Mr. Hanna said it had been argued that a disproportionate volume of Island revenues were being taken for development of other parts of British Columbia. He subscribed to the idea of unity in Provincial affairs, but was mindful of the fact that a very heavy drain on Island timber and other resources had occurred in the past.

Comox riding had produced much of the timber cut in recent times, and had not secured a proportionate return. A definite policy of reforestation should be encouraged, he concluded.

S. S. McKEEN, M.P.P.

Mr. McKeen praised the Administration in all its works; recited the East-West argument on Canada's trade, and warned briefly against any tendency to increase the number and scope of social services too fast for consequent burdens to be absorbed.

The Mainland member quoted statistics of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, to indicate that business in Canada was improving steadily. Benefits would come from the new trade agreement with the United States, and British Columbia had already the benefit of a 250,000,000 f.b.m. export quota at half former tariff rates, he said.

Lumber exports by water had grown from 146,000,000 board feet in 1922 to some 850,000,000 board feet last year. Tonnage and shipping out of Vancouver had doubled and redoubled, with steamship lines increasing from seven to fifty-three in a comparatively short span of time. Depressions were periodic, and this one was passing. British Columbians had a right to count on progress and growth. Equalization of freight rates was overdue.

ROAD PROGRAMME

Mr. McKeen announced that he understood the Minister of Works would repeat the special road programme again this year. Last year 300 miles of British Columbia highways had been surfaced or improved, out of a $2,000,000 loan, part of which was used in municipal aid. He would submit, in conclusion, that the Administration had done a good job; he would even say a very good job.

JACK PRICE, M.P.P.

Mr. Price asked the Government to set up a Royal Commission to inquire into all the details of the Corbin strike of last year. He complained of high-handed action on the part of a section of the Provincial Police, and told of incidents in which he said men and women had been injured in a melee following an attempt to drive a road plough past a resisting throng.

Independent evidence, Mr. Price submitted, would corroborate what he and the member for Fernie had already recited in the House in connection with the disorders. A full inquiry should be held.

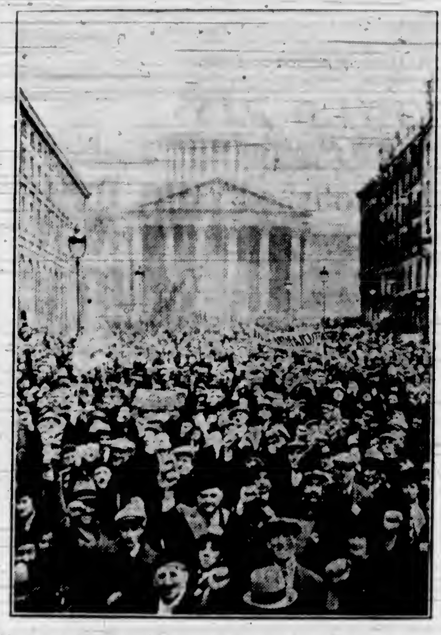
MAXIMUM WAGES

Praising the Minister of Labor for good intentions in connection with labor laws, Mr. Price suggested that the minimum wage schedules were rapidly becoming maximum wages paid, while exemption clauses were being abused.

If a Federal housing scheme were made available within the province, it should be utilized, and, failing that, the Province should initiate some housing measure of its own, with fair wages on all contracts.

Amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, long sought by labor, should be put through. Settlement on actual rather than average wages was requested, with inclusion of more effective means of dealing with partial disability cases, and other changes mooted by labor delegations in the past.

Demonstration in Paris



More than 200,000 anti-Fascists demonstrated in Paris as a protest against the Royalist and Fascist attack on M. Leon Blum, the Socialist Leader of France, and here we see the start of the procession in the Rue Soufflot, with the Pantheon in the background.

DELAY MERGER OF TWO CLUBS

Union and Pacific Amalgamation Held Up Through Technicality

The merger of the Pacific Club with the Union Club still remains unsettled owing to an inaccuracy in the wording of the notice of the Pacific Club, which called the meeting at which the vote was taken, and a decision made to merge, it was learned yesterday.

Under the Societies' Act, an "extraordinary meeting" should have been called. Instead, a special general meeting was called.

As a result, the decision of that meeting is null and void and another meeting will be held on March 10 to again vote on the matter.

If the Pacific Club members again vote amalgamation, the Union Club will hold a meeting to consider the matter with the probability of ratifying it.

If there is no hitch in the plans, the merger should be completed by the end of this month, it was stated.

PROBLEMS RISE AS REPLY IS AWAITED

tri-power conference, Hungary included, here a fortnight hence.

Von Starhemberg was greeted by Fulvio Suvich, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and Baron Pompeo Aloisi, delegate to the League of Nations. In Austrian circles it was said one of the motives of his visit was to explain results of his recent conferences in London and Paris, following the funeral of King George.

EXPENSES RISING

While Fascist officials studied an answer to the League of Nations plea for peace in Africa, it was disclosed today the kingdom's war expenses have climbed into billions of lire.

The only figures made public on war expenses are those published in the official gazette under the section for appropriations. These disclosed that since the beginning of the fiscal year 6,700,000,000 (about $536,000,000) have been spent on the conflict.

A war communique said all Ethiopian defence on the Northern front has collapsed.

SELASSIE NO QUITTER

ADDIS ABABA, March 4 (?).—Far from regarding Ethiopia as a conquered nation, Emperor Haile Selassie feels that the war has only begun, he said tonight in a message dispatched to this capital from "somewhere on the Northern front."

It was confirmed at the same time that the Negus had left his Imperial base at Dessye on February 21, heading for the sector where Italy since has claimed decisive victories.

"ONLY BEGINNING"

"The war is only beginning," the Emperor said in his declaration. "Ethiopians ought never to believe what the Italians say regarding victories and the number of dead and wounded."

Reuter's Addis Ababa correspondent said in another dispatch today it has been learned semi-officially that the Emperor probably would agree to peace negotiations within the framework of the League of Nations in response to the League Council's plea for peace, dispatched yesterday from Geneva.

INCOME TAX STILL OWING

Treasury Reports $868,220 Owing in B.C. as at March 31 Last

With current plans to increase taxation on incomes by means of payroll and wage cheque imposts for state health, the Province had $868,220 of uncollected income taxes on its books at January 31, 1936, Hon. John Hart indicated in replies to questions in the Legislature yesterday.

While there is no segregation of Vancouver Island operations, a total of 2,214,696,624 board feet of timber was cut in the Vancouver forest district in 1935, with 1,031 logging operations in the woods, Hon. A. W. Gray replied to questions. The Vancouver forest area is mainly comprised of Vancouver Island operations, with some coast areas on the Lower Mainland.

Eleven inspections were made of the Reserve Mine at Nanaimo in the last six months, and while there is no gas committee there, provincial regulations on mine safety are being carried out, Hon. G. S. Pearson responded to questions put to him.

REPLANTING EXPERIMENTS

A total of 1,026 acres have been replanted to date in experimental reforestation in British Columbia, and of this total 104 acres were planted in the last two years, Hon. A. W. Gray replied in answers yesterday. Experimental costs have been from $11 to $22 per acre, tending to the lower rates in recent times.

Natural regeneration has been relied upon up to the present to replace the annual cut and wastage through fire, disease and other losses from timber stands, Mr. Gray reported.

BRIDGE LANDS

While property has been acquired, or agreements entered to that end, in connection with approaches to the new toll bridge over the Fraser River, these negotiations are not yet complete, and details of price and owners cannot be given, Hon. F. M. MacPherson has replied to questioners.

Besides questions answered, the records of the House yesterday contained notices of motion by Mrs. R. P. Steeves, M.P.P. Mrs. Steeves is moving to have the Legislature launch a survey of housing needs in British Columbia, and to draw up a subsequent plan to meet them; and also to urge Ottawa to clarify the position of transient relief in the province.

MONEY NEEDED FOR MISSIONS

F. M. Black Shows Pictures Of Work in Korea and Manchuria

Great and wonderful work is being accomplished on curtailed funds by the United Church missionaries in Korea and Manchuria, but the time has come when Canadians must contribute more to the foreign countries or see the missionaries forced to withdraw. Contributions to the foreign missions have dwindled alarmingly in the last few years.

That was the warning F. M. Black, Vancouver, brought to a large meeting in the First United Church Sunday School Hall last night, when he showed three highly interesting reels of film taken by himself last year when he, in company with Mrs. Black, visited Korea and Manchuria and saw their son, Dr. Ronald M. Black, and his family at Lingchingtsun, Manchuria.

Once missionaries leave the foreign countries there will be no returning, for they will have lost the faith of the natives, Mr. Black declared.

BRING NEW LIFE

The speaker traveled 5,700 miles through Korea and Manchuria during his three-month visit to the Far East. He saw the missionaries fighting and winning over great odds and bringing a new physical freedom and a new spiritual life to thousands. Fine new schools for girls and boys have been built in the past and many are now under construction, Mr. Black showed through the medium of the motion pictures.

Inestimable work was being done by the medical missionaries and the missionary hospitals, it was explained.

Mr. Black stated Japan's power was in evidence everywhere in Korea and Manchuria. The Japanese "have their fingers on the windpipes of all the natives of those two countries."

Everywhere Japan watches closely for Russian spies and many men had been thrown into jail without a hearing by the authorities, the speaker said.

HURT WHEN CAR AND TRUCK MEET

LAKE COWICHAN, March 4.—Mrs. E. Williams met with a severe accident during the week-end when her car and a truck came into collision owing to the slippery state of the road, near Mrs. Dunsmuir's home on the Duncan Road.

Mrs. Williams was removed to Duncan Hospital, having her face badly cut by being thrown through the windshield onto the radiator. Both car and truck were damaged.

Sampson was taken into custody after the uprising developed and had been held incommunicado for several days.

Now! within your reach...The Home of Your Dreams!

FREE! $10,000 DREAM HOME or the Cash!
A TOTAL OF $15,501 IN 3,114 CASH AWARDS!

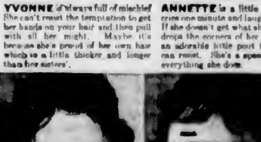
Which of the Dionne Quins would I adopt?

A fortune for day dreaming! Just suppose the Government of Ontario had not provided a wonderful future for the Dionne Quins. Just suppose YOU instead, had been called on to adopt one of these heaven-sent children. Which one would have appealed to you most? Your answer may win a marvelous $10,000 home.

YVONNE is always full of mischief. She can't resist the temptation to get her hands on your hair and then pull with all her might. Maybe it's because she's proud of her own hair which is a little thicker and longer than her sisters'.

ANNETTE is a little rogue who cries one minute and laughs the next. If she doesn't get what she wants she drops the corners of her mouth into an adorable little pout that no one can resist. She's a speed demon in everything she does.

CECILE is a little coquette. She rolls her big blue-black eyes to attract your attention, and then dreamily half closes them so you can get the full effect of her long, dusky lashes. She likes to put her arms around your neck and "hold on tight."



EMILIE promises to be a star athlete. She's getting off to an early start by being champion water splasher and kicker. She's a firm believer in knee action and perpetual motion, and is the most individualistic of them all.

MARIE is the most serious. She has an intriguing Mona Lisa smile, and even when she laughs she seems to be miles away deciding some weighty problem. She's not quite as active as the others, but she's certainly a thinker.

Senate Hears Report On Illicit Liquor by Police Commissioner

Operations of Preventive Service Traced Since Transfer to Mounted Police—Shows Gradual Betterment in Suppressing Smuggling

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—Excessive customs and excise duties encourage liquor smuggling, according to one conclusion drawn by Hon. J. J. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island, from a long memorandum read in the Senate today.

If those duties were cut and the reduction passed on to the consumer, the demoralizing influences of illicit traffic in liquor would be correspondingly diminished.

Against this, however, was the argument voiced by Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader, that lower-priced liquor would make it more accessible to people and so defeat the ends of temperance.

THE PREVENTIVE SERVICE

Most of today's Senate session was taken up with a reading by the Government leader of the memorandum prepared by Major-General Sir James H. MacBrien, commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. This dealt with activities of the preventive service since the transfer in 1932 of that branch from the administration of the National Revenue Department to that of the R.C.M.P.

At its conclusion, Senator Dandurand suggested that, if the Senate was unconvinced that the situation was being adequately coped with, the original motion of Senator Hughes for a committee to probe the whole question could be advanced. The Government would comply with it.

GRADUAL BETTERMENT

General MacBrien's memorandum traced operations of the preventive service through the years in all portions of the country and showed a gradual betterment in the situation, both with regard to suppression of smuggling and to economy of administration.

The margin of profit to be derived from smuggling, however, was still considerable and was sufficient to be an incentive to the lawbreaker. The traffic now fluctuated over the international boundary since the United States had repealed the Volstead Act.

The document clearly showed, said Senator Hughes, "tremendous organization" operating especially on the seaboard to defeat the ends of justice. It was plain that duties continued excessively high.

"It would be better," he declared, "to get back to the duties that prevailed before this business originated."

HIGH PERCENTAGE

It had been estimated between 70 and 80 per cent of the liquor consumed in Canada was illegally produced or illegally imported.

The senator had been commended on his stand by the president of the Vancouver Seamen's Association, who described conditions on the Pacific Coast as "appalling."

BRITISH DOCTOR FEARED SLAIN

Bodies of Three White Men Found After Battle in Northern Ethiopia

ASMARA, Eritrea, March 4 (AP).—An unofficial report said the bodies of three unidentified white men had been found today in the recent battle area betwene the Tembien sector and Amba Alaji.

Fascists believed that the three, as yet unidentified, may have been a British doctor, an Indian doctor and an Austrian, whose addresses were found on two Poles captured recently and sent to Italy. These doctors were with an Ethiopian Red Cross unit.

PRISONERS OF WAR

(Two Poles, Dr. Maximilian Stanislaus Below and Thadeus Medynski, a Warsaw newspaper correspondent, who were serving in the Ethiopian Red Cross, surrendered February 16 in the battle of Amba Aradam, and were sent to Italy as prisoners of war).

The Italian high command estimated today 30,000 Ethiopians were killed or wounded in fighting since the big Italian drives started February 10. Italian slain was estimated at 2,000.

Fascist officers said the routed armies of Ras Mulugheta, Ras Kassa and Ras Imeru had, respectively, an estimated 80,000, 30,000 and 25,000 men; and that "none of these forces now exist."

Holds His First Investiture

IMPROVEMENTS ARE NOW BEING EFFECTED

Douglas School, where a drab school ground has been transformed into beautifully terraced rockeries, ornamental steps from elevations to the playground proper, and a new playground created for the primary department. Approximately 200 bushes have been planted in the grounds, and the crescent-shaped terrace in front of the primary annex makes the view of the school from Five Points one of outstanding beauty.

FENCE IN GROUNDS

A softball backstop has been erected on the grounds, and a fence constructed on the south boundary to guard against traffic accidents. The grounds have been swept clean of boulders, and flower beds improved around the school buildings. Climbing roses and Virginia creeper will be planted at the base of rock outcroppings to further enhance the landscape design. A lattice fence will enclose the pile of cordwood so that this blot on the scenery eventually will be obscured.

At the High School a ten-inch stone wall will be built along the top of the ramp that leads down to the new playing field on the north side of the school. The bicycle racks, which have been increased in number, will be transferred to a point near the stone wall so that more light will be admitted to the basement classrooms. Concrete steps and a bicycle ramp will be constructed near the northwest corner of the school, while the playground has been extended in the northwest portion to beyond the street car tracks. The triangular plot beyond the tracks will be planted with bushes, the playground extended to the tracks, and a bush border planted to prevent any accidents.

NEW AUDITORIUM

Work was started last Monday on the new auditorium at Oaklands School by Luney Bros., contractors. The basement walls have been bricked in, and the joists for the main floor are now being installed. The grounds at this school also have been transformed with well laid-out flower beds and shrubs, while the combination tennis court and roller skating rink is now ready for hard surfacing.

At Quadra School the football field is nearly ready for seeding, and drainage is being put along Fifth Street by the city so that the grounds can be drained properly. A hard-surfaced tennis court will be installed with concrete sides so that this court can be used for roller skating. While nothing was said during the tour, there is a possibility of using these courts as an ice skating rink if flooded during the cold weather. A ten-foot fence will be erected at the north boundary of the football field to prevent the ball being kicked onto Finlayson Avenue.

WIDEN FIELD

Burnside School, which ever since it was constructed, has needed a playground badly, at last is to be given a fine new ground. The present field is being widened by 125 feet to the top of a ramp, which will be terraced with rockeries down to the level of Burnside Road. Bushes covering this area have been torn out and the grading is now being done. Two softball diamonds will be provided, a better football ground, and other decorative improvements made to the property.

Victoria West probably has undergone the greatest development. At the rear of this school a large-sized football field, grass hockey field and basketball courts are being laid out. The steep slope to the school will be terraced and put into garden. It is estimated that about 500 bushes will be needed to complete the landscape work at these grounds.

Other improvements will be carried out at other schools, but at present the work is being pushed ahead at these schools for the time being.

TWO SABOTAGE CASES FOUND ON WARSHIPS

ing apparatus of the Velox was damaged.

DAMAGE NOT DISCLOSED

On February 17 the Admiralty said it was investigating a case of suspected sabotage aboard the 9,750-ton cruiser Cumberland, also at Chatham. The nature of the damage to the Cumberland was not disclosed.

In both cases the Admiralty said: "It would not be in the public interest to make any statement."

In December two warships at Devonport Dockyard were involved in alledged sabotage attempts. They were the battleship Royal Oakand and the submarine Oberon. Electrical mechanism had been tampered with on both ships.

DATE IS ALTERED FOR CONVENTION

LADYSMITH, March 4 — Although the response to the convention call from the Upper Island libraries is entirely favorable, the date suggested originally, March 7, was found to be impracticable, as many of the local committees were unable to arrange for delegates in time.

To insure fair representation from all quarters, and to permit participation by any centre not included in the first approach, the new convention date is Saturday, March 28 and Nanaimo will be the meeting place.

Touring Canada To Advance Trade

MONTREAL, March 4 (CP).—Pierre Vasseur, secretary-general of the International Chamber of Commerce, arrived in Montreal today from New York to begin a tour through Canada for "promotion of major trade and financial policies between nations of the world."

WELLINGTON PIONEER DIES

NANAIMO, March 4 (CP).— John William Sanders, sixty-year-old pioneer resident of the Wellington district who was well known as fire boss in the old Wellington mines, died at his home there today.

DELEGATE OF Y.M.C.A. BACK

Closer Co-operation With Y.W.C.A. Discussed by National Council

Closer co-operation between the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., with the object of ending duplication of services, was discussed at the annual Y.M.C.A. National Council convention at Hamilton, Ont., from February 14 to 16, according to Ernest Harrison, official Victoria Y.M.C.A. delegate, who has returned from the parley.

The 125 representatives of the Y.M.C.A., from all parts of Canada, felt it would be advantageous to have branches of both institutions controlled by one board of directors, but decided to take no immediate action, Mr. Harrison said.

Rt. Rev. L. W. B. Broughall, Bishop of Hamilton, opened the convention and gave an address on the world importance of Y.M.C.A. work. Other important addresses were given by Dr. E. M. Best, Rev. C. E. Silcox, Sir Francis Flood, W. H. Dewar, Dr. A. W. Beavan and Dr. Francis S. Harmon, general secretary of the International Y.M.C.A.

Plans to further work among boys were dealt with, including varied programmes embracing all branches of athletics, development of hobbies, appointment of Y.M.C.A. representatives in public and high schools, and the building up of character. A special committee was appointed to draw up reports along these lines.

It was the opinion of the convention, Mr. Harrison said, that many organizations were entering into boys' work without the proper facilities or understanding, and that there should be a continuous programme of activities for boys throughout the entire year.

Echoes From The Gallery

While the Legislature proceeded in the afternoon with debate on the main address, governmental health insurance, now identified as a $2,600,000 taxation plan, ran its third course before the Liberal caucus last evening. The bill has not yet made its way to the House, where it is expected to proceed eventually, though perhaps with the addition of a proclamation clause.

In the morning a delegation of Mainland labor officials met members of the Legislature informally, to endorse the health scheme. P. R. Bengough, C. McDonald, B Showler, C. Herrett, Fred Griffin and E. A. Jameson composed the delegation, supporting the plan as detailed in official announcement during the week. Discussion turned on a measure which may or may not be changed when it reaches the Legislature.

In the Legislature, Messrs. Hanna, Price and McKeen proceeded with the main debate adjourned by H. E. Winch, who will resume at 2:30 p.m., today. Liberal whips said R. R. Burns, Byron Johnson, and R. H. Pooley, K.C., would follow, with C. H Tupper to adjourn the debate today.

Bill Six came down in the accepted manner by messages from the Crown. Hon. K. C. MacDonald presented the measure, as acting Attorney-General. Equal sharing of responsibility for contributory negligence in automobile and other accidents, in cases where exact assessment of blame cannot be made, would be set up under the law, to be known as the Contributory Negligence Act. It will be detailed on second reading.

The private bills and public accounts committees will go into action shortly. Public accounts for the year 1934-35 were referred to committee yesterday, as were private bills for Vancouver and Victoria cities, and two private concerns, including the Okanagan Trust and the proposed Victoria Foundation.

The Victoria City Bill will be considered on March 11, and annual charter amendments for Vancouver on the day following. Byron Johnson is handling the former, and S. S. McKeen, the latter.

Conditions in British Columbia forests will be investigated by the forestry committee, under Captain C. S. Leary, sitting at 10.30 a.m. today in the Cedar Room. The committee is expected to call several witnesses from forest operations, private and public, as to the actual reserves of timber on hand, and other phases of the industry.

A new committee was struck yesterday at the suggestion of Premier Pattullo. Composed of Messrs. Sloan, Hanna, Whittaker, Pooley and Wismer, this committee will examine the suggested draft of a consolidation of British Columbia statutes carried out during the last two years by A. V. Pineo, British Columbia legislative counsel. Attorney-General Sloan is absent at present, but is expected back at the close of Ottawa discussions on the B.N.A. Act.

Meeting repeated questions on the cost of Ottawa missions by Cabinet Ministers, the Premier offered to put all the replies in a written return, to be delivered at this session. Members filing the questions concurred in the proposal.

Deputy Speaker Hanna created a precedent during the day by direct reference to the Press Gallery. His purpose, however, was to praise C. Norman Senior, former Sun correspondent, who is now secretary to the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, at Ottawa.—S O.

Out of England's total population in 1935, estimated at 40,350,000, there were 19,357,000 males and 20,993,000 females.

HARRAP—Rev. F. L. Stephenson conducted the last rites over the remains of Robert Harrap yesterday, in the presence of a large gathering of sympathizing friends. The hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung. The casket was draped with the Union Jack, and a profusion of beautiful flowers was received. The following acted as pallbearers: W. H Lamont, Harry Ward, George Simpson, Major George Sisman, Wendy Tolmie and George I. Warren. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Former Members Of Battalion at Reunion Meeting

To renew the acquaintance of Colonel the Hon. J. A. Hope, of Toronto, several ex-members of the 46th Battalion, C.E.F., met on Tuesday evening in Naval Veterans, Canadian Legion, clubrooms on Broad Street. Colonel Hope was major of the battalion overseas.

There are twenty-three ex-members of the 46th Battalion residing in the city. Those present at the meeting were E. M. Grontage, C. A. Hislop, D. Knight, A. S. Rainer, Herbert Stokes, Edward W. Tanner and E. C. Young.

Colonel Hope brought news from a number of Prairie residents who were with his battalion overseas. The evening was spent in reminiscences of war days and discussing advisability of holding an entertainment to mark the anniversary of Vimy Ridge in April.

2 Things that Combat Colds like Magic!

ALMOST INSTANT RELIEF IN THIS WAY...

1. Take 2 "ASPIRIN" Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2. If throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "ASPIRIN" Tablets in ⅓ glass of water. Gargle twice. This eases throat rawness and soreness instantly.

Instead of burdening your system with strong medicines for a cold, try the way pictured above — the modern way; the quickest, simplest and easiest to combat a cold.

Your own doctor, we are sure, will approve it. People everywhere have discarded old-time ways and adopted it. Here's what you do:

Two "Aspirin" Tablets with a glass of water when you feel a cold coming on.

Three "ASPIRIN" tablets, crushed and dissolved in ⅓ glass of water, as a gargle. Gargle twice with this medicated gargle. It will act like a local anesthetic to ease the pain of sore throat, and act, to soothe soreness and rawness.

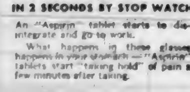
The "Aspirin" you take internally will start combating your cold internally, at once. And ease the accompanying aches and pains of a cold.

Try this modern way. But be sure to get "ASPIRIN" tablets. They go to work almost instantly. And dissolve thoroughly enough to use as a gargle. Watch out for this.

● "Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

WHY "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST

Drop an "Aspirin" tablet into a glass of water.



By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

An "Aspirin" tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach — "Aspirin" tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

ALBERTA LOSES MAJOR DOUGLAS

Major Douglas, the chief proponent of Social Credit and advisor to the Alberta Government, has cancelled his contract with the Prairie province; in other words, he has left Premier Aberhart to his own devices as to how he will bring the "national dividend" into practice. That means that another "expert" will be selected because the Alberta Premier does not claim for a moment that he can bring in Social Credit as a working policy by his own efforts. Evidently Major Douglas, too, is of the opinion that there is nothing he could do to point the way, the more especially because Alberta is a debtor province and is becoming more heavily involved all the time.

When at the recent Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa the policy of a Dominion Loan Council was agreed to, Major Douglas was not pleased, although it was none of his business. He stated in London at the time that he protested strongly against Alberta's financial autonomy being "filched" from it. This attitude of his was very naturally resented and the question was raised in the Alberta Legislature by the leader of the Conservatives. He wanted to know why a paid official of the Alberta Government should give voice to such criticism at a time when the Dominion and the Province were seeking to reach an agreement whereby Alberta would be helped to weather a financial storm of first proportions. The Government appears to have been silent, no doubt relying on the assistance of Major Douglas to implement its policy of a "national dividend." Now Major Douglas has washed his hands of the matter. He has been amply paid, to the tune of $6,000, for advice which is wholly nugatory so far as any results are concerned. Nobody anywhere, even in the realm of theorizing to the extent of millions of words, has been able to give a practical demonstration of how Social Credit could be put into effect. The doctrine remains wrapped up and undiscernible in what Mr. A. P. Herbert calls "Logorrhoea." In the circumstance one cannot help pitying Premier Aberhart because he has said: "He (Major Douglas) started this Social Credit thing. I have taken my ideas from him."

DULL DEBATING

It is quite possible to believe, with Premier Pattullo, that he would make a better job of it if he were in opposition to himself. In any case, it would be impossible for him to make a feebler showing, if such a paradoxical situation obtained, than is being made by His Majesty's Loyal Opposition. Legislative debate on the Address has been dull in the extreme; that debate drags its weary way with little or no light thrown on any given situation. It is simply an avalanche of words often full of sound and meaningless. The real opposition to the Government is found in public opinion, not in the Legislature. Only a few Members of that Legislature have sensed the public opposition to the only legislation of any importance proposed during the present session, namely, compulsory health insurance. It is true that Members are entitled to their own opinions on the subject, and the great majority of them seem to be in favor of the scheme. That is unfortunate, for in that respect they do not represent the views of their constituents.

Such debates as that on the Address in reply to the Speech are largely wasted time. The fact that this is so is illustrated by Members of the Legislature becoming so tired in the prolongation of their speeches that they revert to jungle English and use language which the Speaker evidently regards as parliametnary, but which is far from being polite. Some of the language is such a mixture of words as to be almost unintelligible, and it is the exception to the rule when a Member says what he has to say "in straight-flung words and few," and then sits down. The present debate on the Address is long-drawn out because there is little legislation to come before the House and time must be utilized somehow if the length of the session is to be extended so as to fulfil the legal requirement to allow the Members to draw their sessional indemnities. It is the fact of paying legislators that makes them talk as much as they do; it is their privilege to show that the wordage they employ fits the remuneration they derive from the taxpayer.

THE "QUID PRO QUO"

There is one provision in the compulsory health insurance scheme for this Province that will require explanation. It is that in which it is stated that "the scheme is essentially one in which all money paid in by contributors must be returned to them in services." If this were true, then an insured worker who pays the tax regularly through the years would have a mounting credit of hospital benefits for himself and his family, and benefits as well for medical services, etc., provided he and his family escaped illness. There could be a case of a worker who, together with his employer, had paid the tax for a period of ten years without ever receiving any benefits. He might have a family of five and have paid the maximum tax, which in his case would amount to 70 cents a week with his employer paying a tax of 35 cents weekly on his account. Thus in ten years at the rate of a tax of $1.05 per week a sum of $526 would have been collected from this worker and his employer on the worker's behalf, if he and his family never had secured benefits.

Each of the members of this worker's family would, in the case of sickness, be entitled annually to ten consecutive weeks of hospital treatment in a public ward, to full laboratory service and diagnostic aids and to a certain proportion of the cost of drugs, medicine and dressings. Are these services accumulative on the credit side if they are not partaken of from year to year? It would seem so, since "the scheme is essentially one in which all money paid in by contributors must be returned to them." In that case an insured worker who had paid his taxes and whose employer had paid for him over a period of ten years without any benefits having been received by any member of his family of five persons would have to his credit and to the credit of his family 500 weeks of hospital service in a public ward, together with the accumulated services that come under the head of various forms of medical aid.

If all taxes collected from those taxed must be returned to them in the form of services, then it follows that this must apply in each individual case, for otherwise there is discrimination and the healthy are being taxed on behalf of the sick. The fact is that the prolegomenon of the Health Insurance Act has been so unhappily worded as to raise false hopes. It is not the intention of the legislation that benefits shall be accumulative as a credit balance in the event of their not being received. It is the intention that those who enjoy good health through the years are to be taxed on behalf of those who are not so fortunate, while, as well, the more unfortunate and their employers are supposed to pay a sufficient tax to meet the cost of benefits that it is said are decreed on an actuarial basis.

It is quite evident from the foreword on the legislation that the Bill is to be designed in a haphazard fashion, leaving much to chance, and most of all leaving the possibility of its working out financially to an element that is bound to be uncertain. Those who come within the orbit of the new taxation may rest assured that it is only a question of time before their taxes for the purpose of health insurance will be increased. They may further rest assured that the statement that "the scheme is essentially one in which all money paid in by contributors must be returned to them in services," is simply a piece of propaganda. That will not happen to the individual who enjoys good health. He will be taxed on behalf of others, not himself.

MESSAGES TO THE FAR NORTH

An interesting feature of the programme of the Canadian Broadcasting Commission is the broadcast every Saturday night of personal messages under the caption of "The Northern Messenger." The Ottawa station sends out letterettes from all and sundry, providing they are directed to persons living where there is no communication by wire. It is a fine chance for those whose friends live in the lonely places of the great Northland. In a moment's flash the personal word is carried across spaces that would take a dog train weeks to cover. It is swifter even than the airplane. The sense of separation is lessened a little and thus a contribution is made to the friendliness among the Canadian people.

To the listener-in these messages to the Far North give an interesting hour. They are warm with friendship and home affection. It is as if one were permitted to read a Christmas telegram or the contents of a private letter. The messages range over the field of the more intimate social relations. Heartily friend greets friend with a "good luck to you." Bits of home life are suggested: "Mary is still on crutches"; "A baby came to —— last week." Many are signed by "mother and dad," and sometimes by "mother" only. One read: "Lovingly, Gran."

Heart-sickness is felt at times, and anxiety. "Am wearying to hear from you." Far-off folks are told that they were being prayed for. The next flash is a jolly "hello" and the promise of a packet on the way in time for the receiver's birthday. Thus the vast spaces between Labrador and the Yukon become vocal with expressions of good will and affection. The chance listener-in discovers an hour of human interest, but what must it mean to those separated by long leagues from their own people? The radio brings them a handclasp in the familiar voice of the loved one.

HIS TIME LIMIT

I notice most of the members have taken their full forty minutes. I have not, and if at any time in this House I am caught speaking more than fifteen minutes I hope some member will ring the bell on me.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

One of the many peculiarities of human and animal nature is the admiration of the weak and the puny for the strength and the fighting qualities of the courageous and the strong. That may be why we always have been fascinated by the story of the Romans who defended the bridge and by the tale of the skilled swordsman who declared that the rock upon which he stood would fly from its firm base as soon as he. That also may be why we always have admired the bold front and invincible determination of Premier Pattullo. We have seen the Premier play a game of golf. He plays that game precisely as he plays the game of politics. The ball is at his foot on the tee and the hole is hundreds of yards away. He hits the "pill" a mighty swat, and off it soars in the direction of the green.

* * *

But sometimes the ball swerves from its true course and lands in the rough or rolls into a bunker. So when the ball is in an impish mood, that is the time when coolness and skill determine the number of strokes which will win or lose the hole and the ultimate result of the game. In the game of politics or golf the Premier is impetuous, sometimes tempestuous. He loses his head, hammers away and plunges along into new difficulties. If he encounters a stymie, he "blows up."

* * *

In his deep and important political game with the experienced and wily politicians at Ottawa, the Premier has been oftener in the rough than on the course. The game has made no progress, and the present position appears to be that his ball is either in a bunker or stymied. A cool-headed and resourceful player would play out with the loss of a stroke or two; but Mr. Pattullo says he will not accept that position. He is going to play the game according to his own rules. He will not forfeit a single stroke, if that involves the surrender of what he calls provincial autonomy, and provincial autonomy may be defined as meaning the right to impose new taxes upon the people of the province. Give us our inalienable right to enlarge the bounds of taxation (other Liberals used to call it the right to broaden the basis of taxation) and we shall come out triumphantly over all our political and economic troubles.

* * *

In justice to Mr. Pattullo the fact must be admitted that when with a joyful countenance and a light heart he entered into the responsibilities of government he plunged into a sea of troubles. Further in justice to Mr. Pattullo the truth must be confessed that since he came into power he has done nothing to still the raging waters of this sea of troubles. Instead of trying to soothe the raging waters he has stirred them up. He has missed his opportunity and unless he can accomplish some political and economic miracle his fate will be that of some other Premiers: the raging waters will engulf him. There must be some wise councillors in the retinue of the Premier, but if there are they have not succeeded in curbing his impetuosity.

* * *

The truth appears to be that the dreamers and the fanatics have grabbed his ear and have filled his head with fantastic ideas of miracles which may be wrought by instituting new social services in addition to the multitude of such services already established. The troubles which afflict this province and all the other provinces of Canada are due to the high cost of governments, and the dreamers and the fanatics are afflicted with a maniacal belief that such troubles may be removed by adding new departments to governments, indefinitely increasing the cost of government and indefinitely increasing taxation to meet the high and steadily increasing expenses of government.

* * *

Municipal taxpayers are crying that the taxes imposed upon them are greater than they can bear. Provincial taxpayers are complaining that they cannot shoulder the burden of taxation and continue in business. The Dominion Government claims to have made a concession to public demands by reductions in taxation, but the relief thus given is not yet apparent in substantial reduction in the cost of living. But outside of this province there seems at last to be recognition of the fundamental economic truth that, at the root of the depression in Canada there is the primary fact of the excessive cost of government and an intolerable burden of taxation. Yet Premier Pattullo exclaims we must not surrender our provincial autonomy, for if we lose our provincial autonomy we forfeit the right to impose new and higher taxes, and our future independence and prosperity depend upon establishing new social services and imposing new and higher taxes to maintain them. Men of what we call orthodox political views frequently point with scorn to Premier Aberhart of Alberta as a combination of religious and political fanaticism. There are fanatics in the Government of Mr. Pattullo, and they are quite as obdurate in their fanaticism as members of the Aberhart Government. People so afflicted cannot be reasoned out of their lunacy. Neither can they be cracked on the head. They must be left to the judgment of time.

Tommy Burns Says

"The success of Joe Louis' career is the fact that he was trained to hit correctly. There are plenty of boxers who no doubt are quite prepared to admit that, and Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, is one of them. . . . If a 'white hope' was discovered, I could not name ten managers who would be fit to develop the boy to become a top-notcher and 'knock-off' Louis. . . . Jack Dempsey, former 'Manassa Mauler' and one-time ruler of the heavyweights, had a wicked left-hand coming out of a weave. . . . Primo Carnera, the 'big boy' from sunny Italy, was a game fighter."

Somebody Is All Wet

One hearty laugh we had in Vancouver last week was when we saw a watering cart spraying the streets while heavy rain poured down. . . . It is surprising to find so many city streets over there paved with wooden blocks. Victoria has been discarding them for years. . . . A returned soldier suggests a way in which the Federal Government might save a little money. Every time a Government position is advertised 100 application forms are mailed to T.V. Section, Canadian Legion, which means that there is at least one for every member. Few members of the unit are able to do anything but work of the lightest variety. Members now have a pile of over 2,000 forms in their clubrooms and are finding them handy for the fireplace on cold mornings. . . . A man who spends considerable time in a large building on Yates Street where round objects are hurled at bottle-shaped wooden ones, reports seeing a large dog of a nondescript variety on St. Charles Street wearing a pair of corsets. Having enjoyed a large week-end, he rubbed his eyes and looked again. The canine shambled over as if to show off his or her strange habilament. Why any person would equip a dog with a pair of corsets still remains a mystery, unless the pooch had a broken rib.—G.B.

Matter Overlooked

A matter overlooked by the Victoria Rugby Union was the selection of an intermediate rep Rugby team. The value of such a team each year is easy to be seen. The drawing of players from each team in the Intermediate League and playing them together against a second intermediate team, or a senior team, would familiarize them with the rep type of play. These junior players, on entering senior company and later trying out for senior rep teams, would certainly find themselves better able to fit in with a strange team. The job of rep coach duties would be made easier by having an abundance of seasoned players available and the standard of rep play would be raised in this way.

Cagers Take to Road

The other day I mentioned about the Dominoes cage squad going on a jaunt Tuesday evening over a certain route that took in about ten miles of exercise. Well, the boys went out on the road, but, due to four of the team being unable to turn out, the route taken by the Canadian champions was not even close to the one I was given by a member of the squad. Instead, the gang met at Doug Peden's house and started off along Douglas to Hillside, swung down Gorge Road to the bridge. Then they cut through by the Gorge Park, via Craigflower Road, and through the Victoria West district back to Peden's residence on Princess Avenue. Art and Chuck Chapman, Alex McKeachie, Doug Peden and "Red" Martin paced that distance in fairly good time. The rest of the team missed the trip. Andrews was reported to be looking after a girls' team somewhere. Just like "Porky." Ollie Goldsmith is recovering from illness, while Jack Mottishaw is still nursing a sore ankle, and Axel Kinnear was overworking himself at his place of employment. So Mr. and Mrs. Phan, you see what the Province is going to be up against in the British Columbia final, which opens here next week.—J.D.

SOCIAL CREDIT DOCTRINES

Sir,—Under the above caption your regular correspondent, Mr. Jull, again resorts to misrepresentation and I am obliged, somewhat reluctantly, to trespass further on your valuable space.

I made no error in quoting from Mr. R. G. Hawtry to show that, if under stress of war and exhaustion of bank deposits, banks attempted to create the means of payment out of nothing, such a course would lead to inflation and disaster. I did not impute in the slightest degree the thought to Hawtry that banks "only create money during war times," as Mr. Jull says that I did, and I must ask Mr. Jull to prove his assertion from any of my letters or apologize for the misstatement.

We all know perfectly well, as Mr. Hawtry said in his radio debate with Major Douglas, that banks do create money, but please note Mr. Hawtry did not say that they create it out of nothing.

Banks create money when they issue currency (bank notes) based on deposits; accummulated savings of depositors. They also grant credit to borrowers who have created their own credit by satisfying the bank that their assets, actual and potential, are greater than the proposed loan. The borrower gives his note in exchange for the credit granted, and sometimes collateral security as well, and thus a form of money is created when the credit granted is entered as a deposit by the bank. The "credit money" thus "created" is the joint product of the borrower and the bank and can be put into circulation by the borrower drawing cheques against the deposit. The bank incurs a liability every time it cashes or honors the borrower's cheques; if it used sound judgment in granting the loan all is well and the transaction has been to the mutual advantage of the bank, its shareholders, depositors (creditors) and the borrower. If the bank, as occasionally happens, overestimates the credit worthiness of the borrower, and the latter does not redeem his note the bank of course loses the amount.

The foregoing is a correct outline of sound banking practices in part. Space will not permit to relate how the different functions and activities of sound banking promote thrift and development and lubricate the machinery of trade, industry and commerce.

The essence of all sound banking practices is that all money, including bank credit money, must be redeemable and exchangeable for actual wealth. Inasmuch as governments do not create wealth, but take some of it from the individuals who do create it, they have not the means to distribute so called "national dividends," except by collecting wealth by taxation.

The Douglas brand of Social Credit advocates disavow any intention of paying "national dividends" by means of taxation, but in none of their publications do they show how or by what means they will get or create negotiable currency to pay every man, woman and child anything of value.

Mr. Jull once said that they would do it "out of thin air," but of late he seems to have realized that the air is a little too thin for such idealistic proposals to be realized.

SPENCER PERCIVAL.
Port Washington, B.C., February 29, 1936.

CHRISTIANITY'S MORALITY

Sir,—It is strange that Socialism or Communism should appeal to some as a philosophy of life. The explanation probably is that for many proclaimed Socialists the details of their philosophy are swamped in a fervent conviction that a better world will emerge if the social conditions of today and the bourgeois mammonism of our era, with its neglect of social justice, its avarice and lust for power, are completely destroyed. Engel's criticism, or rather sarcasams, against the materialist bourgeosie were misdirected; it was not the bourgeoisie but their materialism which he ought to have attacked. The fruits of materialism will always be evil, whether it be bourgeois or Communistic materialism.

The importance of religion is overlooked. No society can endure, much less prosper, which attempts to dispense with moral ideas and moral rules. Without them, government becomes mere exploitation, and the relation between citizens degenerates into a war of all against all. Few would deny that the morality taught by Christianity is the highest that mankind has ever known, and Christianity alone provides motives and sanctions adequate to evoke, in the generality of men, the self-denial which morality involves. The social stresses and strains which have arisen in capitalist society (largely owing to disregard of Christian teachings) would and do arise in equal or even greater degree in an atheist-Communist society, as is confirmed by the recurrent trials of Communist "wreckers" in Soviet Russia.

Dialectical materialism can neither satisfy the human mind in its search for a meaning in life nor offer to the human will motives weighty enough to counterbalance its egotism. It is infected with that false humanism which ignores the sinfulness of man. As a system of philosophy it is a failure; as a substitute for the Christian religion it is an illusion.

OIL RESEARCH WORK

Sir,—There is taking place in the Province of Alberta one of the soundest policies ever undertaken by a government in power less than six months, the search for crude oil in the most logical area the people of Alberta could have chosen, and it is to the credit of the Premier Aberhart faction that this great work is now being prosecuted with every ounce of energy and vision his ministers and helpers are certainly demonstrating.

Without any doubt in the world Alberta will soon give to a waiting citizenship one of nature's richest gifts, petroleum, and with it will come a condition of great betterment not alone to Alberta but to the West and the Dominion as a whole.

Our first concern is the source of the Turner Valley naphtha. One of these basic beds will be struck in an unlooked or suspected sand and shallow. This crude product will have a volcanic attribute in its make-up, and will be struck in the district east of Turner Valley and south of Okotoks, on what is known as a height of land, the Sitook-Spagway height.

Now, it is also our concern that British Columbia shall also be able to emulate Alberta. The writer, as the diviner, already through this paper has told Victorians that rich oil formations are indicated, without a doubt, here.—I am only interested in big commercial areas and choose my locations as time and occasion dictate. The point of concentration on the coast here will be the William Head area.

The job should be undertaken partially by the Government, giving the parties wishing to lease lands every consideration, as the work is of utmost importance to the whole future of Britain on the Pacific.

The Metchosin volcanics should be core-drilled at a position determined only by the diviner, as it is not possible to know where this oil lies, the district being highly intricate geologically, faulted and disturbed and then some, even to the last local shock a year since.

This information has been and is given openly and fearlessly, as the hour permits no further delay in a vital need of one of the outposts.

The subject demands serious attention of the statements made by the diviner, public scrutiny and consideration, and action to bring about a definite move on this important question.

DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH

The socialization or nationalization of the banking system, so insistently advocated of late, I believe may have disastrous results. Not only would such action fail to break the stranglehold of international finance, but would expose our financial policy to the meddling of second-rate political experts in place of the first-rate financial experts now in control.

What is needed is a change of policy; not a change of administration. The financial policy demanded by the new era now dawning near is one wherein the individual may gain access to the wealth and responsibility of his country without trespassing on the rights of any class or group of citizens, or weakening the State in any particular.

Money on credit is the means whereby the control and distribution of goods and services (real wealth) are most scientifically accomplished. Wherever the money or credit is, there the goods and services will surely flow. Hence the financial policy of the new era will be to facilitate the even flow of money or credit into the hands of all citizens of good standing.

What simpler plan could be found to bring about their gradual change than that of Douglas Social Credit.

RELIEF CAMP WORKERS

Sir,—The reported decision of the Federal Government to take 10,000 men from relief camps and put them to work on our railways at wages is a step in the right direction, but does not solve the problem of unemployment.

It seems evident that the new Government is basing its hopes on trade increase through reciprocity, to absorb the surplus youth and unemployed into new industrial activity, which may or may not develop to that extent.

But for us here the psychological moment has arrived to assert the viewpoint of Vancouver Island residents as to what might be done in constructive development by our relief camp men in long neglected improvements. Half a loaf is better than no bread at all, and as the work is to be on railways, we can work to that end. May I suggest that Chambers of Commerce in this riding send urgent requests for the laying of the steel on the idle and unfinished stretch of Canadian National Railway roadbed, from Cowichan Lake to Nitinat, and from Nitinat to Barkley Sound at the mouth of the Alberni canal. This completed roadbed, now covered over with twenty-odd years of underbrush, would open a direct outlet for settlers on the West Coast, and how much of the steel rails and necessary equipment is lying there rusting is unknown, but is wasting away as it lies there now.

The Provincial Government could at the same time build a highway, by widening the railway roadbed forty feet more, and thus a valuable railway and highway combined, from east to west of the Island, would be accomplished at little extra cost to the nation.

It should be recommended that the men be employed five days per week during the Summer and good weather, with so much of their wages kept back so that they need not work in wet or cold weather in Winter, and yet have their monthly allowance paid regularly when weather forbids work. Instead of erecting new camps for the men along the railway, three new townsites might be surveyed, at Cowichan Lake, Nitinat River and Barkley Sound, and the men be given the opportunity to clear a lot, build their own shack, and build and own a town on the co-operative (Doukhobor) plan of settlement. Migration from overcrowded cities and community land settlement are fast becoming a necessity, but it is too far in advance of political vision in Canada at present.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of March 5, 1886)

Street Improvements—The following are the improvements to streets recommended by the street committee and adopted at Wednesday evening's council: Graveling of Montreal Street from Kingston to Niagara Street, graveling of St. Lawrence Street from Erie Street to Dallas Road, also a wooden or gravel sidewalk; a sidewalk on Simcoe Street for 120 feet; on Belcher Street to be cambered and graveled from Vancouver to Cumberland Streets; a six-foot sidewalk to be laid on Farquhar Street from end of present sidewalk to Quadra Street.

Island Railway Notes—The No. 1 forty-ton locomotive of the Island Railway was at the depot on Sunday and was visited by nearly the entire population of Nanaimo. The Indians stared in awe at the monster, and exclaimed "Okoke, hyas tyhee." Dr. Walkem's railway velocipede was also on the line, and several citizens took a spin along the rails at the rate of eight miles an hour. A load of cut stone has been landed at the site of the proposed round houses and other railway buildings. The contractors have removed their headquarters from Nanaimo River to Shawnigan Lake, this end of the line being nearly completed.

Knights of Labor—A social meeting of the Knights of Labor will be given on Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at Harmony Hall, when a good programme will be provided by the members. A cordial invitation is hereby extended to strangers and friends. No charge at the door or collection afterwards.

David Spencer Choir Gives Much Pleasure With Annual Concert

Proceeds of Last Evening's Entertainment at Empress Hotel Aid Victorian Order of Nurses —Pleasing Variety of Material

ARRANGED in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses, the annual concert by the David Spencer Choir at the Empress Hotel ballroom, last evening, was a most enjoyable occasion, and was well patronized.

The choir, which has the good fortune to possess Frank Tupman as conductor, was happy in the proportion of its fresh young voices, which gave a most pleasing quality to the tone. There was a consistent improvement in all the technical points of choral singing—greater alertness, improved flexibility of tone and articulation, more secure intonation, and more spontaneity in the tempo and phrasing. The choir choir still works under the disadvantage of a disparity of male voices, but Mr. Tupman cleverly manipulates his material to make it as little obvious as possible. The choice of music was one of the means used, and much credit is due these responsible for this detail. Both discretion and good taste were shown. All the music was charmingly melodious, with nice harmonization, and a general popular appeal.

FIVE GROUPS

Five choral groups were presented, introducing a nice variety of composition, some of which were repeated. In the first group were Edward German's "The Chase," "Ye Banks and Braes" (Thiman), and "Sing We and Chaunt It" (De Pearsall); then later were heard an arrangement, for choir, of Herman Lohr's "Where My Caravan Has Rested" and a particularly attractive arrangement by Percy Fletcher, "Robin Adair." For their last number of the first part of the programme the choir sang Edward German's "London Town," which found the women's voices, especially, animated, eager and happy. There was a lingual flexibility that showed there was good material in the choir to work with.

Melodious, "easy," and effective was Cowen's Bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden," and the men's voices made a good contribution to the symphony. Other numbers in this group were the old Scottish song "Caller Herrin'," not often heard in choral form, and Halsett's "Lady, Lay Those Frowns Aside." The last group contained the merry "Song of the Pedlar," where the bass voices had their major moment of the evening; an unaccompanied arrangement of "Drink to Me Only," which tested the legato tone of the choir with appealing results; "Life and Its Follies" (Wood), where the men's and women's voices took turn about in supplying the hummed accompaniment; and the eagerly-sung "Lang sighting" (Grieg).

OTHER GROUPS

A sextette of ladies' voices, drawn from the body of the choir, proved a popular departure. The voices were well matched, and the girls sang with sympathetic feeling and artistic restraint, their numbers being, McDowell's beautifully melodious "To a Wild Rose" and Elgar's "As Torrents in Summer." The singers were Kathleen Clarke, Bernice Unwin, Eleanor Schroeder, Gertrude Wood, Phyllis Roberts and Dora Higgins.

Victoria is deeply indebted to the various Bach groups which perform here from time to time. Year after year they keep up their study and rehearsals, and by frequent appearances on the concert platform have already done much to cultivate a genuine taste for the once-neglected master. In the spontaneous and persistent applause, with which the Bach Trio's offerings were received last evening, indicated genuine enjoyment of the beautiful classical music of "Zum Reinen Wasser" and "Gelobat Sei Der Herr, Mein Gott," which Norah Jones (contralto), Maquinna Daniels (pianist) and Gilbert Margison (violinist) performed with such taste.

During the evening an enormous basket of flowers arrived from Miss Fitzgibbon, president of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Presented to the choir in appreciation of their assistance to the V.O.N., the flowers were promptly handed to Miss Jessie Smith, the club's able accompanist.

SEVEN CHILDREN IN THREE YEARS

Triplets Born to Walla Walla Woman Who Already Has Two Sets of Twins

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 4 (P)—Mrs. Andrew Jackson Robertson, thirty-nine-year-old farm wife, bore triplets today, becoming the mother of seven children in a period of thirty-three months.

The mother and two of the children, the boys, were doing well late in the day, Dr. A. E. Lange reported. The girl, the first child born, died within a short time.

On June 2, 1933, Mrs. Robertson became the mother of twins, a boy and a girl. Again on October 2, 1934, a boy and a girl were born. All are still living, along with two other older children, born singly.

The two boys, weighing four pounds fifteen ounces and three pounds thirteen ounces, were placed in an incubator shortly after their birth. It had been prepared several days ago, when X-ray photographs showed triplets were to be born.

Robertson is a fifty-seven-year-old farmer, living at Dixie, a small community eleven miles northeast of here.

JACOB'S DREAM IS DISCUSSED

E. E. Richards Foresees Crowning of King Edward As King David

Interesting features of the accession of King Edward VIII to the British Throne and their relation to the claims of the British-Israel Association, together with a prediction that King Edward would be crowned King David of a reunited Israel in Jerusalem, were included in the illustrated address given last night in the Chamber of Commerce by E. E. Richards.

Mr. Richards, in his opening remarks, refreshed the memory of those present with the dream of Jacob, given in the Book of Genesis.

He then traced Biblical and world history events to show how the Prophecies were being fulfilled, and by quoting Scripture and symbols on the Royal coat of arms, and the legends emblazoned upon the arches and altars of British institutions, endeavored to show how all these things pointed to King Edward VIII becoming King David of a reunited Israel and thus fulfilling the prophecy contained in the vision of Jacob.

JACOB'S STONE

One of the most interesting features of his lecture was the picture of the Coronation throne of Great Britain, containing Jacob's stone, the stone against which he reposed when he had his dream. Sir Walter Scott had deciphered the words engraved thereon, and the translation, he said, again pointed toward the fulfillment of the prophecy.

International events were discussed, which again pointed toward the approach of the end of the age of the Gentiles and the setting up of a reunited Israel, in the opinion of the speaker.

One hundred lantern slides were shown, illustrating not only the recent funeral of the late King George V, but the early and later life of the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, and the activities of other members of the Royal Family.

Mr. Richards said there was no doubt in his mind that King Edward would visit Great Britain's Dominions to be crowned King of each Dominion, as provided under the Act of Westminster, and that during the course of that tour, he would visit the Holy Land, of which he is king by virtue of a mandate, and there he would have conferred upon him the title of King David.

The speaker said the King had not chosen this title, because the Royal Family was not one to usurp titles, and although he was known as David among the members of the household, King Edward would not become King David until the title was conferred upon him in the Holy Land, as prophesied in the Bible.

THOUSAND CONVICTS ON HUNGER STRIKE

ST. CLOUD, Minn., March 4 (P)—Spasmodic pounding on cells at the State Reformatory today signaled a continuance into a second foodless day of a hunger strike by most of the 1,156 inmates in protest against prison fare and regulations.

But H. W. Whittier, superintendent, expressed confidence that the prisoners would yield soon to the demands of appetites.

The rebellion started at noon on Tuesday. The protesting convicts demand better food, higher pay and liberalized visiting hours.

VIVISECTION IS DISCUSSED HERE

Views Opposing Practice Are Expressed — Progress Reported By Organization

A large volume of business was discussed by the board of the local Anti-Vivisection Society at its recent meeting. An extract from a letter from Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's sister was read: "My brother was not interested in whether vivisection was benefical to the human race or not; the suffering it inflicted on unconsenting animals was sufficient basis for his enmity to it, without looking further."

The writer also expressed the opinion that Kingsford-Smith will yet be found and rescued from the almost impenetrable jungles of the tropics.

The Calgary and Toronto societies reported much interest and progress in the cause. A Toronto delegate had attended an inspiring conference against vivisection held recently at Washington, D.C.

CANCER RESEARCH

Relative to cancer research, the following resolution was passed: "Whereas this society is not opposed to the proper investigation into the cause and cure of cancer, it strongly opposes experiments upon animals in this connection, these experiments being cruel, utterly futile and an enormous tax upon public funds."

G. B. Kitto, who presided, described an interesting and illuminating discussion between himself, Miss Kitto and Colonel Wakefield Rainey, M.R.C.V.S., on a number of matters relating to the welfare of animals generally.

A petition asking that animals shall not be vivisected before students at the Shantung Christian University may be signed at the society's office, 315 Sayward Building.

The sixteenth birthday party of the society will be celebrated at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday afternoon, March 21, by a silver tea and entertainment.

FESTIVAL HAS LESS ENTRIES

But Strong Competition in Choral and Folk Dancing Classes Promised

Victoria's 1936 Musical Festival entries closed yesterday with a falling off of about 15 per cent in total registrations.

While on the surface the figures were slightly discouraging, there were also compensating facts. Speaking of these last night, P. A. Gibbs, president of the festival committee, noted that the cutting out of bands and wind instruments this year accounted for the decrease to a measurable extent. It was not quite so easy to find explanation for the drop in registration of strings. The entries are less, also, in the pianoforte classes, but this was thought to be due to the time of year in which the festival has been placed.

SCHOOL ENTRIES

A really cheerful note was struck in the report from the festival offices of the way school entries had come in. In all classes, open to schools, the registrations were reported as splendid. Competition in the choral groups will be even keener than last year, and the committee was especially pleased with the way entries had come in for the folk-dancing classes.

In the adult choral classes the entry was most gratifying, it was stated. Vancouver is sending several choirs to compete, among them the Hudson's Bay Company's Choir to compete in the commercial choir contest that takes place on the Wednesday of Festival Week.

The programme committee will meet tomorrow night to make out a tentative programme, and this will be endorsed or amended at a special meeting of the general committee Saturday.

FAIL TO REACH FARM DECISION

Saanich Council Reserves Judgment on Fox Issue Until Monday

Saanich council, sitting as a court of inquiry concerning the Malahat Fox Farm, reserved its judgment until Monday, when the court adjourned early this morning.

At last night's session of the two-day hearing, three defence witnesses were heard and opposing counsel addressed the council. The council will meet Monday at 8 p.m., in camera, to reach a decision, Reeve William Crouch stated.

$20,000 INVESTMENT

Defence witnesses last night contended there was no odor from the farm and that there was no contamination of food from the odor of foxes. The total value of the investment at the fox farm was stated to be nearly $20,000.

In a forty-minute summing up, A. J. Patton, defence counsel, claimed the matter was not of an actionable nature, and that medical evidence had substantiated a defence claim that the farm was not a menace to public health.

Forrest L. Shaw and P. J. Sinnott, counsel for complainants, in a brief summing up, stated the whole matter revolved upon the interpretation of the word "nuisance" and its meaning under a municipal by-law under which the hearing was convened.

SAFETY FIRST IS TREATED LENIENTLY IN TRAFFIC COURT

LOS ANGELES, March 4 (P)—Municipal Judge C. N. Carns called the roll of traffic violators today.

"Safety first."

The judge's gavel banged.

"Don't kid me, young man," stormed the judge. "I asked you for your name."

"That's it—Safety First."

The court ordered the bailiff to check the young man's identity. It was Safety First. The court suspended a $2 fine.

Dean Quainton Gives Talk on Prison Reform

Dean Quainton visited Brentwood College on Monday and gave a lecture on "John Howard and Prison Reform." He held the closest attention of his audience for more than an hour while he described the horrible condition of the prisons in England and on the Continent during the eighteenth century and then spoke of John Howard's prodigious and almost single-handed fight to remedy these conditions.

It was a fascinating story of courage, faith and perseverance, which ended with John Howard's death on the shores of the Black Sea from that very gaol fever which he was then trying to stamp out.

Though Howard died without achieving anything substantial in the way of concrete results, his spirit, the Dean pointed out, has lived on, and is animating the still-needed prison reforms of our own day.

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS

Sir,—May we add a little more to the general knowledge of economics, with particular reference to the letter of Mr. Chalmers, and those facts therein which are correct in themselves, or those correct only as considered in correct relation to other facts not given.

The public is acquiring and discussing economics to an unusual extent. This being so, in common with other knowledge in any branch, we expect a great deal more imperfection than completeness in the facts acquired by many individuals. In fact, many persons with zeal and conviction are reiterating their primary knowledge of economics, while men with more knowledge and experience in the whole subject are either too busy or have not yet learned the necessity of (for the general good) continuing the education of the nation to a higher standard. A nation with access to knowledge and the combined power of the ballot should not be left, even by the Government, to make detrimental use of its imperfect knowledge in the spheres of local and national government, or national and international relations. In fact, one may say that if those in authority in this country, in Europe, or elsewhere, gave a more complete knowledge of economics and the international character thereof to their people, political bitterness, strife, feuds, bloodshed; yes, even international differences, would largely disappear.

Speaking nationally, as long as our people make use of (specifying only one country for brevity) tea from Ceylon, rice from China, oranges from California, cocoa from South America, sugar from Cuba, manufactured goods from all parts of the world, or, on the other hand, as long as we wish to sell fish, lumber, ores, grain, etc., to other countries, just so long will economics be international. In fact, the prosperity and wealth of the world has been built up on the international character of economics. Therefore no group of craftsmen, district, provincial or national, is a law unto itself in the matter of trade. Speaking internationally, no nation has what another cannot obtain by the judicious employment of its people at home, combined with a willingness to make fair exchange in international trade.

Under the title, "Liquid Capital," Mr. Chalmers states, "No money crosses frontiers, except the banknotes a traveler carries in his pockets. These can only be redeemed by being returned to the country of their origin" . . . "People often talk of money going abroad, or of foreign money coming here, etc." . . . "Therefore, no capital whatever, except in the form of goods, has ever been brought into Canada."

Speaking of goods, there is no complete relation between our export and import trade and invested capital in Canada.

As to invested capital, we find that if credit is furnished directly by American or British firms or syndicates for development in Canada that credit brings out from the banks more Canadian currency, for increased circulation for the purchase of materials or equipment, or the payment of wages, or increases the turnover of currency already in circulation or may (depending on its volume) prompt indirectly an increase in the issue of currency. The same applies if shares in Canadian companies or enterprise are bought in Britain or United States. Many people these days are overlooking the fact that development in this country based on investments from outside sources not only increases our domestic trade and national wealth in its first distribution, but continues to increase both by its recurring turnover in our economic structure. This should not be overlooked by those who complain about the amount of return received by outside interests or "exploitation" (?) by them.

Speaking of "the banknotes a traveler carries in his pockets," or the purchases or expenses of tourists and businessmen from other countries, or cash brought by immigrants, the actual currency certainly may not, because of international banking, stay long in this country (though American currency has some circulation here), but the fact remains that after it has been changed for Canadian currency, or accepted as currency, in its first use and subsequent cycles, it increases the use of Canadian currency, increases trade volume and national wealth, more than would be the case without its influx into the country.

O'Mahony Tosses Former Champion

ALBANY, N.Y., March 4 (AP).—Danno O'Mahony, 222, Ireland, defeated another former heavyweight wrestling champion here tonight, taking two straight falls from Gus Sonnenberg, 205, Boston.

O'Mahony, who lost the title to Dick Shikat in New York, won the first fall tonight in 27:41, when Sonnenberg was thrown outside the ring.

The second fall came in fifty-nine seconds after Sonnenberg limped back into the ring, apparently injured. O'Mahony tossed him across the ring and Sonnenberg conceded the fall.

RAILROAD IS DEBT BURDEN

George M. Murray, M.P.P. For Lillooet, Speaks on P.G.E. System

With a capital indebtedness of approximately $80,000,000, the 347-mile Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Squamish to Quesnel is crushing down the people of British Columbia, George M. Murray, Provincial Member for Lillooet, told members of Ward Five Liberal Association last evening. The speaker was introduced by Major H. M. McGiverin.

Characterizing the indebtedness as ruthless gouging, Mr. Murray declared that somebody had been defrauding the public, for the P.G.E. did not cost nearly $80,000,000. He said he would press for a thorough Government investigation of the railway.

Dealing with mining, he told how the Cariboo and Bridge River districts were progressing, with the result that good wages were being paid miners. Speaking of the satisfactory settlement of the Bridge River strike last Summer, he believed that men who did the work should be given a reasonable share of what they produced. He thought this should also apply to other British Columbia industries.

DUTY OF LIBERALS

Mr. Murray believed that it was the duty of Liberals to co-operate with the party to the end that leaders were continuously advised of public opinion. The action of Premier T. D. Pattullo in refusing to permit by-elections in two great ridings, affecting one-tenth the population of the Province, he classed as most hurtful to the good name of the Liberal Party.

In his view, the Premier should employ reasonable measures to hasten a test of public opinion in the two ridings because of the prominence of the former members, His Worship Mayor G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P. and Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

LIBERAL CONVENTION

Mr. Murray took the stand that there should be a Provincial Liberal convention at an early date, because the great mass of Liberal opinion called for one.

He thought the present Provincial Administration was doing good work in many departments, and that no more sincere or honorable group of men had ever controlled a legislature. He said the Premier was one of the best administrators the Province had ever seen, but times called for team work rather than individual effort. A leader, Mr. Murray concluded, must work and consult with his people.

The speaker was tendered a hearty vote of thanks by E. M. Whyte, chairman, on a motion of W. H. Kinsman. A programme of cards, dancing and refreshments, arranged by Richard Jenkins, brought the evening to a close.

All pleaded not guilty to the charge.

They walked out of the camps on February 20 and were taken to Hope in the Provincial trucks. On arrival there they are alleged to have forced the drivers to continue on towards Vancouver. They were stopped by police near Chilliwack and later brought to Oakalla Jail.

Today's trial was adjourned to tomorrow after several witnesses were heard.

The English county champions won the first five-day match by six wickets.

TREATY DEBATE IS CONTINUED

Vote on Canadian-American Trade Pact Not Expected For Week

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—A full week of debate on the Canadian-American trade treaty stretched ahead for the House of Commons today with a division on ratification not expected until next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The debate proceeded all afternoon with Conservatives continuing their opposition to the treaty and Liberals loud in their praise. In one form or another, the treaty will be before the House for two or three weeks more because the tariff changes must pass through committee stage and one or two ancillary bills considered.

VARIOUS VIEWS HEARD

The House heard various opinions from members living in different parts of the country. Harry Leader, Liberal member for Portage la Prairie and a farmer, praised the cattle provisions. John R. Macnicol (Conservative, Toronto-Davenport), a retired industrialist, protested against duty reductions.

J. G. Turgeon (Liberal, Cariboo), whose riding stretches into the North of British Columbia, praised the lumber provisions while his father, a white-haired senator whose parliamentary experience goes back to the turn of the century, listened from a gallery.

FOR MESS OF POTTAGE

An Ontario farmer, Thomas A Thompson (Conservative, Lanark), accused the Prime Minister of making an improvident bargain with Washington, of swallowing "the American bait, hook, line and sinker." Canadians, he said, had "sold our birthright for a mess of pottage" and had become "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the Americans.

Mr. Turgeon read a telegram from the Prince George Spruce Manufacturers Association praising the lumber provisions of the treaty. He protested against the argument the treaty would switch trade north and south whereas it had been built up on east and west lines. Undue tariff protection for the Central Provinces, he said, was penalizing primary producers in the east and west.

Your Health and Your Weight

THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST CORPULENCE

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

A young woman weighing 150 pounds consulted a physician as to the best method of getting rid of twenty pounds. At first glance she appeared to be well, as do most stout individuals, but there was a lack of color in the face and the eyes had a "tired" appearance. Further, the physician noted that the excess weight on her body was about the hips, abdomen and shoulders and that her hands, wrists, feet and ankles were small and slender. This showed that her overweight was mostly due to a lack of juice from the small pituitary gland lying at the base of the brain.

As was his custom, the physician began to make a routine examination and found that the temperature was below normal and the haemoglobin was only 60 per cent instead of 85 to 95 as in normal healthy women. He stopped the examination and advised the patient to see her family physician and get "built up" physically before he began any weight reduction treatment. She admitted that she had eaten meat only once and eggs only once during the previous two months.

The point of course is that while reducing overweight is wise from a health standpoint, the patient should be thoroughly overhauled by his or her family physician before weight reduction begins.

Dr. W. A. L. Styles in an article "The Campaign Against Corpulence," Hygeia Magazine, says.

"In the ambition to shed weight, men and women have never paused to consider the advisability of misdirected endeavor. As a consequence death has been the end result of numerous treatments for obesity (overweight). Before launching an anti-fat offensive, every prospective patient should undergo a thorough physical examination at the hands of a reputable physician and should carefully follow his recommendations to the letter.

"Merely because discretion (or commonsense) has not been combined with determination (and many of our fat friends are determined in their wish to lose fat), failure crowns many efforts to regain normal weight. The reducing of weight should come second to improvement in physical condition as a goal in the campaign against corpulence."

The two outstanding suggestions in Dr. Styles' article are (a) To eat nothing between meals, and (b) to leave the table while still hungry. These two suggestions are not only simple but quite safe, and safety whilst reducing should never be forgotten.

Physicians now have so many overweight patients seeking a safe method of reducing weight that they outline diets which will maintain strength and yet reduce weight if faithfully followed. "Proper diet to which is added exercises suitable to individual needs brings dividends in the form of health; whereas wrong diet and faulty exercise, particularly when aggravated by faulty treatment by medicine—Epsom salts, thyroid or pituitary extract in the wrong type of cases—may wreck health and bring on premature death."

So widespread is the desire to reduce weight that all sorts of short cuts are being tried, often with disastrous results. The eighteen-day diet, the use of pituitary and thyroid extracts in non-suitable cases, the use of the new drug dinitrophenol, using large doses of Epsom salts or proprietary medicines containing Epsom salts are all responsible for many cases of chronic illness and also many deaths.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that the Adult Weight Conference of America has addressed a timely message to the victims of overweight who are debating whether to try starvation, Turkish baths, massage, calisthenics or weight reducing drugs.

To decide to reduce weight is an excellent idea, as weight reduction brings better health. To have the determination to follow a system of weight reduction at great sacrifice to the natural desire for food is quite praiseworthy. But to follow any system without having an examination by a competent physician and following his safe method is most unwise.

"Now, sir," defending counsel said to the witness, "you have known the accused a long time?"

"Twenty-odd years," was the reply.

"And do you think him perfectly honest?"

"Perfectly!"

"Would you trust him with your own money?"

"I certainly would!"

"Then tell me, sir—do you consider it likely he would have stolen this sum of money, as the prosecution alleges?"

"I consider it most unlikely—impossible—that is—er-well, how much was it?"

Columbia Diocesan W.A. Hears of Year's Work

Lady Lake Re-elected President at First Business Session of Annual Meeting—Miss Phepoe Will Give Address Tonight on "Joy of Service"

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Diocesan Board of Columbia Woman's Auxiliary opened yesterday morning with a service of Holy Communion in Christ Church Cathedral, at which the bishop-coadjutor was celebrant, assisted by the dean, Rev. Canon Nunns and Rev. Canon Chadwick.

There were 175 communicants. The united thankoffering, amounting to $535.46, was presented, to which the open offertory will be added. In a forceful and striking sermon, Bishop H. E. Sexton expressed the call to the church's womanhood to share in carrying the message of the Master to all lands; to which the Women's Auxiliary is devotedly responding.

The registrar, Mrs. Carver, reported 250 delegates and members attending the opening sessions in the Memorial Hall, the diocesan president, Lady Lake, taking the chair at 11 a.m., when the meeting stood in silence to the memory of His Late Majesty King George, followed by the singing of the National Anthem as an expression of loyalty to King Edward VIII.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

The address of welcome to delegates and visitors was ably expressed by Mrs. A. Luxton, Mrs. Heber Cooke, of Courtenay, replying for the delegates. A hearty welcome was expressed to Miss Phepoe, who was on the platform with the honorary vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Sexton, and in a gracious manner the vice-president for Western Canada conveyed greetings from the Dominion board.

In a telegraphic dispatch, a greeting was received from Bishop and Mrs. Schofield, to whom a reply was sent, including good wishes for Mrs. Schofield's birthday today. Greetings were read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Weaver, from Yukon, Calgary and New Westminster dioceses.

Mrs. Clowes, a life member of Fredericton diocese, was welcomed, also Mrs. F. C. Chapman, now living in Courtenay, a past officer of the Diocesan Board. The members standing, the obituary list of members who have passed away was read, and the report of the death of Mrs. L. T. Davis, of Parksville, yesterday morning was heard with deep regret by the meeting.

MEMBERSHIP INCREASES

The recording secretary's report showed an increase of nearly 100 senior members during the year. There has been an increase in girls' branches, the total membership being 2,670, by whose efforts the sum of $11,816 has been raised during the year.

Three life members have been added to the board, making 111 diocesan life members of Columbia Women's Auxiliary. The reports of the junior and girls' secretaries were received with applause, as was that of the Dorcas secretary, of which copies are being sent to the branches.

SURVEY OF WORK

At the afternoon session, a large audience attended to hear the address of the diocesan president, Lady Lake, giving a comprehensive survey of the work of the past year both in Columbia Diocese and in the foreign field, the jubilee year of the Woman's Auxiliary having been a momentous one in many days. Reference was made to the Dominion annual meeting to be held here in the Autumn, when the newly-elected Dominion president, Mrs. Wodehouse, will preside at the meetings. She has been recording secretary for seven years. The visit of the Primate of Canada was referred to, and a welcome expressed to the coadjutor-bishop.

At the close of her address, a bouquet was presented to Lady Lake by Mrs. F. C. Nivin, first vice-president, the meeting standing as a mark of love and appreciation of Lady Lake's unfailing charm and unsparing energy as diocesan president, to which office she has been returned, it was reported by the nominations committee convener, Miss Nicolls.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Following discussion of the financial statement, brought in by Mrs. J. R. Hartley, diocesan treasurer, both Mrs. F. C. Chapman and Miss Phepoe expressed appreciation of the work accomplished by the treasurer, the latter commenting on the generosity of the diocese and the moderate costs of administration.

The reports of the "extra cents" secretary, Miss Evelyn Gwynne, and the united thankoffering secretary, Mrs. G. T. Hughes, brought the afternoon session to a close.

TODAY'S MEETINGS

10 a.m.—Business resumed. Discussion, educational department secretary, Mrs. Alan Gardiner.

No session this afternoon.

7:30 p.m.—Address by Miss Phepoe, "The Joy of Service"; lantern slides of the North, shown by Mrs. Beimer; informal gathering, to which all Woman's Auxiliary members are invited, hostesses to delegates' and visitors; refreshments will be served by the executive.

Next week's meeting is in charge of the devotional convener and a good attendance is expected.

Membership In Club Is Increasing

New clubrooms for the Victoria club for the Hard-of-Hearing were opened at 1011 Government Street on March 4. This move was considered necessary owing to the growth in the membership and the desire to have better facilities for social gatherings on a permanent basis.

Entertainments are planned regularly by the club with the aim of creating self-confidence and good-fellowship among those who are handicapped by various stages of deafness. One of these entertainments that aroused a lot of interest was a nursery rhyme party, which was participated in by nearly all the members and thoroughly enjoyed.

SERVICE TO OTHERS

In addition to entertainment facilities the club has a wider purpose in view. It hopes to develop service to others. Lip reading is being strongly advocated as a scientific and reliable prop for those whose hearing is impaired or threatened. The club carries on practice in this art under the supervision of a certified instructor. It is recalled in this connection that in Vancouver, through the instrumentality of the Hard-of-Hearing Club there, three city schools opened classes for lip reading. The local club desires to be notified by parents or teachers of children whose hearing is below normal. In the hope of forming a class of these.

GROUP HEARING AID

An objective of the club is a formation of a group hearing aid, whereby it will be possible for all who attend to enjoy lectures. A book club is another aim in order to develop an interest for those who must live under the shadow of silence. The club also hopes in the course of time to emulate larger cities in finding suitable employment for those of its members seeking work, and who have been handicapped in obtaining it. It already intercedes with business houses here to retain their deaf employees.

An appeal is being made, not only to the hard-of-hearing, to join the club, but also to all the citizens of Victoria to consider the club from a humanitarian point of view and by sympathetic understanding, interest and co-operation, to help those less fortunate than themselves. The general election of officers will be held by the club on Wednesday, March 11, at 1011 Government Street, at 8 o'clock.

Card Players Attracted by Daffodil Tea

Thirty-six tables of bridge were in play at the daffodil bridge tea held yesterday afternoon by Victoria Chapter No. 17, Order of Eastern Star, at the Shrine Auditorium.

It was a very gay affair and the masses of daffodils used throughout the room lent a Springlike atmosphere. Mrs. I. Hole was the convener and was assisted by Mrs. C. H. Cross, Mrs. P. Ford and Mrs. H. Brennen. Mrs. R. McKean was in charge of the home cooking stall. The guests were welcome by the worthy matron, Mrs. H. Wiltshire.

The players sat down to tea at 4 o'clock, the tables being arranged with tall green tapers and silver baskets and bowls of daffodils, Maidenhair fern and Oregon grape leaves. After tea, bridge was continued, both auction and contract being played. A special prize was won by Mrs. E. M. Lorimer and at cards the prizes were awarded as follows: Contract, first, Mrs. S. D. Qualicum Beach

The joint committee of the Canadian Legion and the Community Club held a Leap Year dance on Friday in the hall, so that February 29 was danced in gaily with music and balloon-breaking at Qualicum Beach. The excellent music and the good floor of the Community Hall proved attractive enough to draw nearly seventy couples over the roads made difficult by snow and slush. Mr. A. C. Bryan, as organizer of the committee; Mr. F. Bagnall, as master of ceremonies, and Miss Ruth Stewart, as convener, are to be congratulated on the success of the dance. For some hours on Friday afternoon Mr. Bryan was caring for the drive for autos from the highway to the hall. After paying all expenses, it is hoped that the societies sponsoring the dance will benefit by approximately $10 each. The Community Club looks forward to the time when it will be financially in a position to have the grounds around the hall beautified so as to be in keeping with the hall itself. Thanks are due to all who, by service and by donations of cakes, helped make the Leap Year dance so happy and successful an event.

Saltspring Island

A most enjoyable time was spent Sunday afternoon, when Dr. and Mrs. R. Rush entertained several guests at the tea hour in their home at Ganges. The tea was given in honor of Mr. Alexander, Mrs. Rush's father, who is on a visit to her from Tokio. An interesting feature was the hearing of a gramophone record, the story of which was told by Mr. Alexander as follows: The Empress of Japan, who, with her husband, is worshipped by the nation, donated a large sum of money to a Japanese leper colony. In gratitude for the gift, a leper sent a poem he had written to the Empress, who was so pleased with it that she wanted it set to music. An American, Mr. Percy Buchanan, a famous young musician and composer in Japan, and incidentally a nephew of Mr. Alexander, was chosen to compose and sing the air for the record, only twenty-five of which have or ever will be made of the Japanese words, wonderfully beautiful music and glorious voice. Being a present to the Empress, none of these records can be sold, but ten were given to the composer and ten to the accompanist, Miss Isabel Alexander, who had just sent one to her sister, Mrs. Rush.

Among those present at the tea were Mrs. A. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crofton, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. King, Captain and Mrs. J. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Price, Mrs. W. E. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. A. J. Smith, Major and Mrs. F. C. Turner, Mrs. E. Walter, Misses M. Holford, M. I. Scott, Norah Turner, Mr. H. W. Bullock and Captain F. H. Walter, R.N.

One of the first territorial regiments to arrive in India after the declaration of war in 1914 was the 10th Middlesex, who were stationed at Calcutta. A short time after their arrival a draft of a hundred men was sent to take over some barracks about 150 miles away.

The Indian stationmaster at a junction received a wire that a hundred Middlesex were arriving by a certain train and asking him to have lunch prepared for them.

He wired Calcutta as follows: "Do not understand—male sex I know, I am male—female I know, my wife is female—but what is this middle sex? Please explain."

Liberal Dance In Saanich Is Gay Function

The annual dance of the Saanich Liberal Association was attended by more than 300 guests last night in the A.O.F. Hall. An enjoyable evening was spent in dancing both modern and old-time dances, the music being played by a well-known four-piece orchestra. Old-time waltzes were enthusiastically encored and several medleys soon enabled everyone to enter into the informality of the affair.

The dining-room was a gay scene, the supper tables being set with vases of daffodils and pussy willow. The guests all sat down for supper, and by way of a novelty, Piper Russell Todd played the bagpipes during supper.

Mrs. R. Noble, Mrs. F. Harris, Mrs. E. E. Bell, Mrs. J. Hourigan, Mrs. Humphries and Miss M. Warnock constituted the committee responsible for the dining-room and refreshments.

Mr. R. Noble was chairman of the dance committee and was assisted by Messrs. J. Warnock, A. Hemming, Roberts and E. Wilkinson, Jr. Dancing continued until 1 o'clock in the morning.

Parliament Appeals to Mrs. Black

OTTAWA, March 4 (CP).—Mrs. George Black, Independent Conservative member of the House of Commons for Yukon, announced today she had come to the conclusion "Parliament is a delightful place for a woman," although she had often said during her election campaign that "politics were no place for a lady or a Christian."

Mrs. Black declared she had received every courtesy in the House and the same chance as any man. "If I had anything to ask for, I am sure I would get just as good a hearing as either Mr. King or Mr. Bennett, though I do believe the House of Commons is no place for a scolding man or woman. One is as bad as the other. In fact, there is no difference between them in business."

Final plans for the forthcoming Spring dance to be held in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Friday, March 27, were announced at the Revellers Club meeting last night by the committee composed of T. G. M. Custance, Dr. John Mercer, L. Butler and Lloyd Paterson.

Plans were made for the evening's entertainment to be put on by the Revellers for the men at the Otter Point Relief Camp in the near future.

The resignation of J. H. B. Watson, secretary, was accepted with regret, and Hugh Farquhar was elected to fill the vacancy.

A committee also was appointed to collect funds for the Children's Aid Society in its drive to raise $5,000.

The club's annual banquet will be held on Saturday, April 25, in the Empress Hotel.

OLD LANDMARK TO BE RAZED

Colwood Hotel to Be Demolished Now That Hostelry Is Nearly Ready

The old Colwood Hotel, historical landmark for the last forty-five years, fell under the wreckers' hammers yesterday.

Work has commenced upon the demolition of this famed old wooden structure, which was erected in the horse and buggy days, when a ten-mile drive into the country was quite an event.

When this hostelry is razed to the ground, it will disclose to public view a new beautifully designed Tudor type hotel of larger dimensions.

The site of the present hotel will be improved by the proprietor, George T. Quincey. Flower beds and lawn will be planted, while a semicircular driveway will lead to the main entrance of the new hotel, which faces onto the Island Highway at the juncture of the Sooke Road.

MINISTERS HEAR TWO ADDRESSES

Bernard Ennals and Ernest Bishop Speak at Gathering of Ministerial Group

Bernard Ennals and Ernest Bishop, two students of Victoria College, who are in preparation for the Christian ministry in the United Church of Canada, addressed the meeting of the Victoria Ministerial Association in the Y.W.C.A. this week.

Mr. Ennals spoke on "A Young Man's View of Life," and Mr. Bishop gave a report of the quadrennial convention of the Student Volunteer Movement that was held in Indianapolis during the Christmas holidays, to which the speaker was a delegate.

The executive was instructed to arrange, if possible, for a visit from Dr. Stanley E. Jones, the famous missionary evangelist of India, and author of such books as "Christ of the Indian Road." Dr. Jones will speak in Vancouver next September in connection with a series of meetings that will be held across the United States under the auspices of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ.

A memorial expressive of the character of the late King and of loyalty to King Edward VIII, was passed, the members standing in assent. The historical committee reported that the records of the association were complete from 1904 to 1910 and from 1922 to the present time, but there was still a hiatus from 1910 to 1922. The minute books will be placed in the Provincial Archives.

In the absence of the president, Rev. C. G. MacKenzie, on account of illness, Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry presided.

WILL PAINT NEW BRIDGE IN SOUTH

B. J. Bridgeford Will Use Metal Liquid on Famed San Francisco Bay Project

The man whose job it is to paint the famous San Francisco Bay bridge, which will be finished probably in September, arrived in Victoria Tuesday.

B. J. Bridgeford, San Francisco representative for the Metalkote Company of New York, explained the project would take him six weeks with the help of approximately forty operators, who will spray the liquid metal onto the steel structures. The liquid, when dry, will leave an illuminum-colored surface that will be a safeguard against rust and the elements, he said.

Business conditions in San Francisco have improved materially during the last five months, Mr. Bridgeford stated, and there was every indication that times would continue to improve in that part of the country. Mr. Bridgeford was accompanied here by Mrs. Bridgeford.

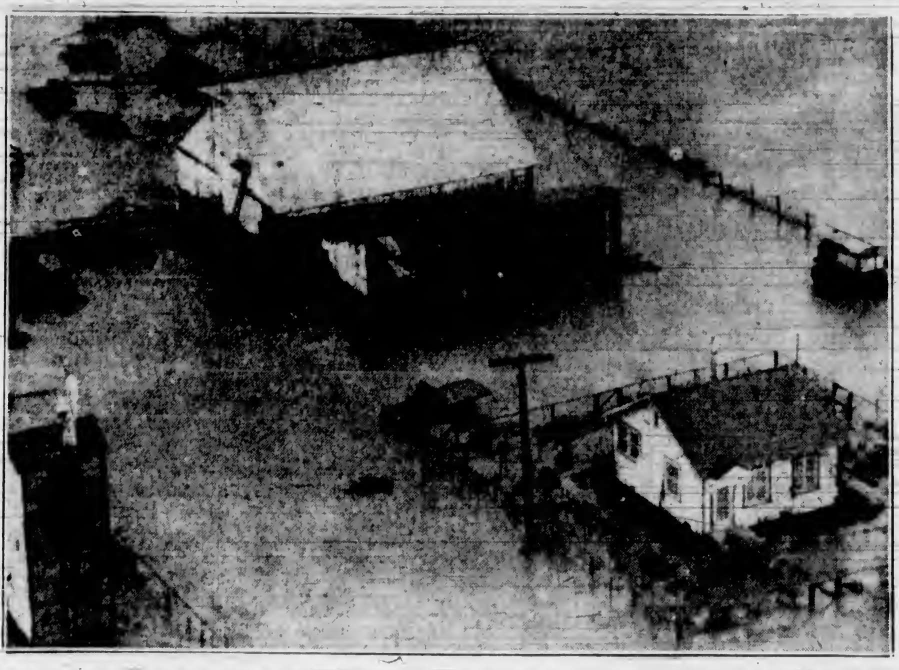
Raging Rivers in California Overflow Banks



Damage continued to mount in Northern and Central California as the San Joaquin River overflowed thousands of acres. A terrific Sierra cloudburst resulted in ranches being submerged near Stockton, Cal., as waters deluged down the rivers. This view was taken from an airplane. It it a typical acene of a flooded island in the Sacramento River. Only the house had escaped the raging waters. Note the automobile submerged fender deep and the stalled tractor to the left of the ialand-situated house. More than 25,000 acrea were flooded in Oakdale and the orange blosaom colony.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

"SWING" HANDS

In an ordinary session of rubber bridge, approximately forty hands will be played. Of that number, unless the cards are running unusually "freakishly," well over half will be cut and dried, producing a certain number of tricks on the most ordinary play. Another ten or twelve will offer some problem of opening lead, general defence, or dummy management. And, finally, there will be a few sometimes only one or two, that will come to be known as the "swing" hands, deals from which large gains will accrue to the team that best rises to the emergency.

It is these crucial hands, with their demand for the utmost nicety in bidding and play, that create the true enthusiast's zest for the game. Incidentally, the final score of each player will be found to reflect, to an enormous degree, the direction in which the "swing" hands have swung!

A DIFFICULT HAND

In recent articles I have told so many stories on myself, in which I figured as the absent-minded professor, that I may, perhaps, be pardoned for a slight digression to the always enjoyable pastime of "horn blowing." I was, for a welcome change, the hero in the hand described below.

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl
			(final bid)

I was South, the declarer. West opened the nine of diamonds and East's king forced my ace. I could see that I would have no "cinch" with this hand. I knew West to be a conservative doubler, and had no doubt that I was going to find a bad break in trumps. The diamond lead did, however, place an important card for me. West could not have led the nine from any combination including the jack, therefore East must hold the card.

I entered dummy with the heart ace and finessed for the diamond jack. As I had expected, West ruffed my ten. He then led a small heart. When East put up the king I no longer had any doubt as to the location of the king of clubs—West must have it for his double, along with the trump honors. I ruffed the heart and laid down the diamond queen. I could not afford to remove dummy's ace of clubs for another diamond finesse. West ruffed again, and again forced me in hearts. I ruffed and led the ace of trumps. Now my last diamond was led and West was trapped. If he ruffed with the king, I would discard dummy's losing club. He chose to discard a club, but this was no obstacle. I ruffed the diamond in dummy and ruffed the fourth heart in my own hand. Then I threw West in the lead with the king of trumps and he was forced to lead away from his club tenace, giving me the last three tricks. In this way I managed to hold the opponents to three trump tricks.

Magnificent defence by West would have made the contract impossible to fulfill. If he had discarded on the second diamond play and waited to trump my queen no coup of mine could have succeeded. On the other hand, the lead of a single trump by me at an early stage also would have been fatal. Rarely have I seen a hand so complicated from both the declarer's and defendants' points of view.

MAKING PLANS FOR FESTIVAL

Enthusiasm Shown at Duncan for Annual Event—Committee Chosen

DUNCAN, March 4.—An enthusiastic meeting to plan for Duncan's annual Sweet Pea Festival was held Monday night at the City Hall, seating accommodation being taxed to the limit.

S. R. Kirkham, last year's chairman, was unanimously chosen to fill that office for 1936. A. E. Green was elected secretary. Societies represented at the meeting were the Agricultural and Horticultural Societies, the I.O.O.F., the Cowichan Women's Institute, the Cowichan Riding Club, the Cowichan Male Choir, Cowichan Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Cowichan Girl Guides, the Canadian Legion, W.A., Knights of Columbus, Duncan Chamber of Commerce, B.P.O.E., and Sunset Chapter, O.E.S.

The committee chosen was a representative one and included besides some representatives of organizations to be selected, R. Crossland, J. Hyde, H. Peel, Mayor Greig, C. Stephenson, F. B. Carbery, Mrs. A. X. Rey, G. D'Arcy, R. Sanderson and A. M. Dirom.

A resolution was passed asking the new committee to devise some plan to perpetuate part of the committee from year to year with the object of putting the festival on a permanent basis.

An offer from the James Canadian Seed Company to plant some sweet peas especially for festival use was gratefully accepted.

The meeting adjourned after thanking Mayor Greig for his efforts in arranging meetings to get this year's festival under way.

Find Cars Buried by Snowslide

QUESNEL, B.C., March 4 (CP).—The story of two motorists' escape from death in a snowslide which filled Devil's Canyon, near Stanley, on the Quesnel-Barkerville Highway, was told here today.

Extremely warm weather, followed by a Chinook wind, brought down a slide 2,100 feet in length, burying a car and truck on the road. The occupants of the machines had gone ahead to look at the road and came back to find their cars buried.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE COMMON COLD AND SINUSITIS

Instead of having a "common cold" many individuals now tell their friends that they have "sinus" trouble, or sinusitis as it is properly called.

Now man has always had sinuses, because these cavities or holes in the face or skull serve as a sounding box for the voice. If these sinuses get filled with mucous or pus, you know how flat the voice becomes, having lost the resonance which these hollow cavities are meant to give it.

Most of us think of the sinuses as just the two big hollows in the upper jaw under our cheeks, but there are really five sets of cavities on either side of the face known as the paranasal cavities or sinuses.

As mentioned before, the lining surface or membrane of these sinuses is the same as that of the nose, and as these sinuses all adjoin or are connected directly with the nose, the lining of the nose simply extends into the sinuses. You can thus see that an inflammation of the lining of the nose can extend up into the sinuses and cause the same or a similar inflammation which is called sinusitis.

Now if the mucous or pus that accumulates in these sinuses could simply run downwards and out of the nose through a good-sized opening, sinusitis would not be a serious matter. However, the holes opening into the sinuses from the nose are sometimes very small, and also the openings are at the top of the cavity and if the mucous or pus is thick you can see the difficulty it would have in flowing "upward" to get into the nose and then out of the body.

Thus in severe cases of "chronic" colds or sinusitis it is sometimes necessary to make the opening larger or drill a hole at the bottom of the cavity to let the mucous or pus flow downward into the nose and out of the body.

Our nose specialists tell us that organisms that cause colds or make the organisms that cause colds more active, are lying in these sinuses of these old or chronic cases of sinusitis, and with bad weather, poor health, wrong eating, they cause what is generally known as the common cold.

Eating the alkaline diet—fruits, vegetables, milk—and cutting down on salt and liquids, seems to benefit patients with sinusitis and colds.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If March 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9.15 to 11.15 a.m., from 2.15 to 4.15 p.m., and from 8.15 to 10.15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7.15 to 9.15 a.m., from 12.15 to 2.15 p.m., and from 6.15 to 8.15 p.m.

Do not make the mistake of thinking you are infallible, particularly in any matter pertaining to money, or some question regarding social usages. Issues involving personal rights are likely to arise, and will require tactful handling, if complications are to be avoided. Refusing to see people or listen to information is likely to prove a regrettable blunder. The seeking for a solution to any problem is not likely to involve much trouble if you will give it your undivided attention. There is apt to be a variance of opinion on some form of social diversion. It might be well not to let selfishness cause the other person's likes and dislikes to be ignored. In the commercial world, liberal policies probably will prove highly profitable, whereas ultra conservative or very restricted ones are ultimately likely to be costly. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose matrimonial hopes seem bright will be wise to realize that nothing, even an ill-advised attempt to appear funny, excuses rudeness.

If a woman and March 5 is your birthday, the most important trait for you to develop is a liberal attitude regarding the individual opinions of both relatives and friends. You must be careful not to step on other people's toes, if you wish to be popular. You are perhaps qualified to do some special kind of work, and it might be a great mistake to cling to some position which you feel is the wrong one for you merely because you are afraid or reluctant to make a change. Courage is needed to travel the road leading to success. In some commercial, educational, artistic, literary or musical line of activity the opportunity may be presented to you. If your matrimonial choice is the result of love's intuition, it is likely to be an excellent one.

The child born on March 5 perhaps will reveal unexpectedly in its youth a latent talent, which, if made proper use of, will win for it an outstanding position in one of the professions.

If a man and March 5 is your natal day, some rare opportunity may slip by you if you do not keep mentally alert and physically fit. Regularity of habits and hours are essential for your success. As an engineer, contractor, architect, journalist, actor, artist, salesman or manufacturer you may find an opening which will make you financially independent.

DERELICT MAY BE FIFTY YEARS OLD

BARROW, Alaska, March 4 (AP).—Identity of a derelict ship locked in the Arctic ice far off Point Barrow puzzled both natives and whites today—but some believed she might be one of seven staunch whalers which sailed into the northern seas fifty years ago and never returned.

The vessel, a two-masted schooner, first was sighted a week ago. Eskimos attempted to reach her but failed.

Observers at first believed she was the ill-fated fur trading ship Baychimo, abandoned four years ago after being trapped in the ice.

M'KINLEY IN FROM ORIENT

Liner Brought Small Passenger List—Crossing of Pacific Uneventful

With a small passenger list and a large general cargo, the American Mail line Ss. President McKinley, Captain C. F. Bryant, U.S.N.R., commander, came up from William Head quarantine station yesterday morning to dock alongside Rithet Piers at 7:30 o'clock. Three hundred and sixty tons of cargo including 160 tons of raw silk and silk goods were left on the local docks before the liner continued to Seattle at 10 o'clock. Officers of the ship reported an uneventful crossing of the Pacific.

Aboard the McKinley arriving here were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. R. Doyle, the former being a woollen merchant of Sydney, proceeding to England via the United States on business; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heybrook and son, John, the former being the wife of the Consul from the Netherlands to the Philippine Islands, proceeding to San Francisco for a visit; Herbert Moe, son of the passenger agent of the American Mail Line, at Portland, returning from several years study at Lingnan University, Canton; Lawrence Todnem, missionary with the American Bible Society, Shanghai, on nine months furlough in the United States; and K. T. Wang, Shanghai, who is on his way to take a position with the Chinese Legation at Washington. Mr. Wang is a graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Three other passengers on the big liner were returning to America under sentence from the United States District Court of Shanghai. Frank J. Raven, head of the American-Oriental Finance Corporation, one of the foremost American financial institutions in the Chinese metropolis, and two other officials connected with it, J. Garland Ogden and J. Warner Brown, were found guilty of embezzlement and sentenced to long terms at McNeill's Island.

VERSATILE YACHTSMAN

Owner and Skipper of Velero III has Many Accomplishments

Well known to many Pacific Coast yachtsmen and scientists is the cruiser Valero III, which is once more outward bound on another scientific expedition, this time in quest of fish-eating bats, white-footed mice which have parasites capable of killing snakes, and other strange creatures.

The expedition, which is commanded by G. Alan Hancock, is being made on behalf of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography and the Zoological Society of San Diego, the Smithsonian Institute and other scientific bodies. The cruiser, carrying a party of scientists, will bring back data and specimens. Among places which will be visited will be Tiburon Island, habitat of the Seri Indians and the subject of many quaint tales.

MASTER MARINER

Captain Hancock is even more interesting than the many specimens he will bring back from the trip, as he holds the distinction, besides being very public-spirited, of being a mariner, aviator, musician, engineer, as well as being possessed of a variety of other accomplishments. Besides being the owner of the Valero III, which was preceded by two other cruisers, also extensively used on scientific expeditions, Captain Hancock is one of the very few yachtsmen who is also a master mariner, holding, as he does, a licence which would enable him to command the largest liner afloat.

To qualify for his licence, he first signed aboard one of his own vessels as a deck hand. He agreed, on the ship's articles, to respond "in an obedient and respectful manner to the lawful commands" of the qualified officers he hired to direct his own ship. After he had passed the examinations, he was granted lifeboat papers, given a bosun's ticket, and then went into ocean-going freighters, actually serving the time necessary to qualify for each successive step.

LIKES FLYING

Captain Hancock is also intensively interested in avitaion, and despite his sixty-six years, holds a pilot's licence. He presented an airport to the city of Santa Maria, and is the chief of a corps of young men enrolled in hos own school at a flying field which he established near his Santa Barbara ranch. Graduates of this school are accepted by the army instruction schools.

In connection with his ranch, it is crossed by a railroad which he built; and when asked, he can always produce his union card, as he is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Then, his friends recall, there was a period of months when, every night, Captain Hancock stood in the company of fellow musicians and drew a bow across the strings of a big 'cello. He was a member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

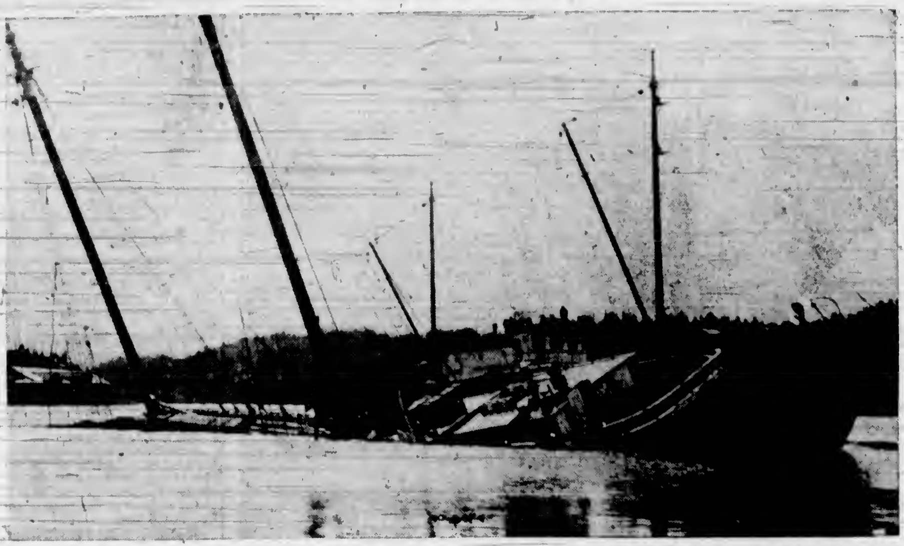
Schooner With Chequered Career Is Wrecked



The above photograph, taken by J. Owen Jones, of Klemtu, shows the Diesel-powered motorship Maid of Orleans, shortly after she struck a rock, near there, in a blinding snowstorm on February 26. She soon filled with water, and the fifteen men and two women aboard made their way with difficulty to Boat Bluff Lighthouse, off Klemtu, where they remained for three days. Built at San Francisco as a schooner in 1882, the Maid of Orleans is 110 feet long, 29.8-foot beam, 9-foot draft and of 197 tons gross. At one time she was a "blackbirder" in the slave trade around South Pacific Islands. At the time of the casualty, she was bound from Seattle for Western Alaska with a large general cargo. The Armour Salvage Company's tugs, Algie and Dely, are en route to Prince Rupert from Klemtu, towing the Maid of Orleans. The salvage company's tugs refloated the vessel and she was taken to Klemtu, where she was patched up temporarily prior to being taken to Prince Rupert.

Next Meeting of Shiplovers' Club At Cadboro Bay

For its next regular "dog watch" the Thermopylae Club will gather in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club premises at Cadboro Bay. In making the decision to meet on this occasion so far from the centre of the city, the shipmates of the local shiplovers' organization felt that any members of the Yacht Club who happened to be interested in what took place during a "dog watch" could "sit in" and enjoy the various yarns which constitute the main features of a Thermopylae evening.

FREIGHTER GROUNDS IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

BALTIMORE, March 4 (P).—One vessel went aground and numerous others were delayed today as dense fog blanketed the Chesapeake Bay.

The bay freighter Edward F. Farrington, of the Norfolk, Baltimore and Caroline Line, was reported aground near Cove Point, about 100 miles below here.

Crew Got Ashore When Tender Was Driven on Rocks

SEWARD, Alaska, March 4 (P).—A heavy gale swept the cannery tender Amook on the rock today off Halibut Bay, indenting Kodiak Island, about forty-five miles Southwest of here.

The Amook's crew was reported safe ashore.

The tender is owned by the Alaska Red Salmon Packers, Incorporated.

PROSPECTS FOR RAZOR BLADES

Small Percentage of India's Vast Population Shave at Present Time

As economic and social conditions improve, India should offer a steadily increasing market for razor blades, according to reports coming from Calcutta.

At the present time, although the male population of the country is placed at approximately 180,000,000, not more than 2,000,000 are users or potential users of razor blades. Included in this number are 300,000 Europeans, Anglo-Indians and Parsees. It is estimated that the daily consumption at present amounts to approximately 400,000.

The domestic production of razor blades is very small and is in the hands of six manufacturers, four of whom are located in Calcutta. It is said that the combined output of the Calcutta plants is around 25,000 blades. All the local manufacturers import blades, principally from Germany, the only local process being grinding, sharpening and printing. The blades made in Calcutta are of the old-style pattern and cannot be used with the latest American or other imported razors, which take slotted blades.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, March 4 (P).—Ms. Hiye Maru has berthed here with 101 passengers and freight from the Orient. Included in the fifty-five passengers who left the vessel here were: Charles Binnie, a retired rancher of Australia, on a leisurely tour, who embarked at Yokohama; Rev. Father W. H. McNabb, a missionary of Japan; H. Sato and S. Uryu, baby chick-sexing specialists of Nagoya, Japan, who are to carry out contracts with poultry producers in Canada and the United States, and T. Kawamura, head of the shipbuilding department of Sakurajima factory of the Osaka Iron Works.

AWAIT THEIR NEW OWNERS

Former Alaska Packer Sailing Craft Will Cross Over To Japan

Sold to Japanese interests, three vessels of the old Alaska Packer sailing fleet remain in their berths at the foot of Paru Street, Alameda, awaiting their new owners to take delivery.

Originally scheduled to sail for Japan in January, no word has lately been received from the owners, and A. K. Tichenor, vice-president and general manager of the Alaska Packer concern, has cabled Japan for further information.

Until word is received, the vessels will remain at Alameda. They are the Stars of Holland, Shetland and Lapland, once the pride of the Packer fleet in Pacific waters.

The Star of Zealand, first of the Japanese-purchased vessels to leave San Francisco Bay, arrived in Japan eighty-one days after clearing the Golden Gate. Instead of being salvaged, as previously planned, she will be placed in Japanese coastwise service.

Wheat Shipments From Fraser Set New High Record

NEW WESTMINSTER, March 4 (P). — New Westminster Harbor Board's grain elevator reached an all-time record during February, when 509,634 bushels of wheat were exported on seven vessels. The bulk of the shipments were for United Kingdom ports.

Only 102,266 bushels were exported from the elevator during January.

LAKE COWICHAN CAMPS RESUMING

Over 600 Going Back to Work in Woods—No Sawmills Shut Down

DUNCAN, March 4 (CP).—After a shutdown of from six to ten days on account of snow, the majority of camps in the Lake Cowichan area resumed operations this week, entailing the re-employment of over 600 men. Only about 150 of the men came out for this short vacation.

The Export Logging Co., which normally employs about 225 men and which has been shut down since Christmas, will not open for some time yet. The operation is situated on higher levels than the other camps and the snow there is still deep.

All sawmills in the district have continued to operate throughout the bad weather.

RETIRED DOCTOR SAYS VICTORIA IS ONE OF FINEST CITIES SEEN

After traveling widely, Dr. DeWitt W. Mertz, retired New York physician, is visiting Victoria for the first time and is singing its praise. He finds this city more delightful to him than Hawaii.

"I am going to like it here," he declared. "It is one of the finest cities I have been in, and I have traveled a long way in my day." He expects to be on the Island for a month.

BALANCE HANGS ON REFUNDING

Lower Interest on Alberta's Funded Debt Only Resource of Government

EDMONTON, March 4 (CP).—Alberta's Government is counting on refunding operations for the $158,629,000 gross funded debt of the province to balance the budget, it was confirmed by Premier Aberhart yesterday, after the budget was revealed.

The estimates, as presented by Provincial Treasurer Charles Cockroft, provided $7,318,438 for debt charges, but he warned at the same time that the province "will be compelled to call upon the lower rate of interest, as already proposed to them."

HOPES FOR BACKING

The province hopes for Federal backing in order to convert the present Provincial indebtedness, placing it all on an interest basis of 2.75 per cent. This move, it is estimated, would save the province $3,297,519 annually."

"We have not anticipated this saving in the estimates," Mr. Aberhart said, "but we expect to achieve the refunding, and with the resultant saving we intend to meet many of the expenses of government."

No indication was given as to how the new 2 per cent Sales Tax will be collected, but in Government circles it was indicated that the province plans to ask the Dominion Government to add this 2 per cent to the Federal Sales Tax of 6 per cent, then rebating the province one-quarter of the total collected within Alberta.

TOKENS AND STAMPS

Other measures possibly, providing authority is issued by amendments to the B.N.A. Act, include "tokens," cardboard or metal discs, such as are used in several Western states, or tax stamps.

MONTREAL, March 4 (CP).—The Welshmen throughout the world are looking forward to the National Eisteddfod to be held this Summer in Fishguard, Wales. PAUL MUNI STAR IN GREAT DRAMA

Playhouse Theatre Presenting "Dr. Socrates"—Fine Cast Appearing in Play

Ann Dvorak plays the part of a hitch-hiker very convincingly in the Warner Bros. production "Dr. Socrates," which comes to the Playhouse Theatre today, with Paul Muni in the stellar role. In the film she has no trouble at all getting rides. Everybody and his brother tries to pick her up.

But when she really needed a lift on the highway, she tried every known technique of thumb bending without success.

"Dr. Socrates" is a powerful and dramatic story by W. R. Burnett, author of "Little Caesar," in which Muni as a neurotic doctor leads the Government agents in the capture of a band of crooks and incidentally recovers from his malady in doing so.

There is a fascinating romance with Ann Dvorak playing opposite Paul Muni. Others in the cast include Barton MacLane, Robert Barrat, John Eldredge, Hobart Cavanaugh, Helen Lowell, Mayo Methot and Henry O'Neill. William Dieterle directed the picture from the screen play by Robert Lord. Mary C. McCall, Jr., adapted the story.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Ah Wilderness!" now at the Capitol Theatre, a drama of a quaint New England town, family life, and adolescent love, was produced on an elaborate scale. Wallace Beery plays the inebriate, Uncle Sid, and Lionel Barrymore portrays Nat Miller, the father. The cast includes Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker as the young lovers, Aline MacMahon as Aunt Lily, Spring Byington as the mother, Mickey Rooney, Edward Nugent, Charles Grapewin, Helen Flint, Buddy Messenger, Mary Russell, Bonita Granville, Tom Dugan and Frank Albertson.

DOMINION THEATRE "The Petrified Forest," now at the Dominion Theatre, is a dynamic drama of love and heroic sacrifice by Robert Emmet Sherwood, with Leslie Howard and Bette Davis in the stellar roles. Others in the cast include Genevieve Tobin, Humphrey Bogart, Charley Grapewin, Dick Foran and Porter Hall. The screen play is by Charles Kenyon and Delmer Daves.

EMPIRE THEATRE Anton Dolin is doing more and more for the British screen. His latest contribution to the films is seen in "Invitation to the Waltz," now at the Empire Theatre. This film, which stars Lilian Harvey, who thus makes her debut in English pictures, contains a delightful and beautifully-dressed ballet, which is one of the highlights of the film. Anton Dolin has not only arranged and supervised all the dances, but also appears in the picture.

Have Important Roles In "Copperfield"

Madge Evans and Frank Lawton, in a Scene From "David Copperfield," the Feature Attraction Now at the Little Orpheum Theatre.

Little Orpheum Has "Copperfield"

"David Copperfield," the sensational hit picture which comes to the Little Orpheum Theatre today, promises to be unusual in many respects.

Sixty-five stars and featured players are in the unprecedented cast. Among the stars are W. C. Fields, Lionel Barrymore, Madge Evans, Maureen O'Sullivan, Edna May Oliver, Lewis Stone, Frank Lawton, Freddie Bartholomew, Elizabeth Allan, Roland Young, Basil Rathbone, Hugh Williams, Herbert Mundin—to mention only a few.

It is one of the few pictures on record in which the writer of the adaptation, himself one of the leading novelists of contemporary literature, plays one of the roles. The novelist is Hugh Walpole, the eminent writer and authority on Dickensiana.

It is an outstanding example of a famous book which is coming to the screen true in spirit and flavor to the original, and without a trace of "motion picture licence."

Columbia Offers Mystery Picture

An absorbing atmosphere of suspense is the keynote of "A Notorious Gentleman," the Universal drama which opens an engagement at the Columbia Theatre today.

Charles Bickford plays the principal male part, and has never been seen to better advantage. Appearing opposite him is Helen Vinson, whose beauty and talent in the only important feminine role in the picture add vastly to the success of the whole. Excellent performances are likewise given by Dudley Digges, Sidney Blackmer and Onslow Stevens.

In the story, Bickford is presented as a clever criminal lawyer who continually secures verdicts of acquittal in favor of clients undoubtedly guilty of murder, solely through the manufacturing of ingenious evidence. But when Miss Vinson, now a famous actress, visits her home town, Bickford, and his enemy, Blackmer, both become suitors for her hand, and finally the lawyer, after an elaborate planning of his own defence, kills his rival.

How the story progresses to its surprising climax makes a screen play of unusual interest, and one which has been handled with rare skill by Director Edward Laemmle.

JAN KUBELIK WILL PLAY HERE MARCH 6

The coming coast-to-coast tour of Jan Kubelik, probably the most celebrated virtuoso violinist of the present day, will excite the enthusiasm of music-lovers the length and breadth of the nation.

Kubelik, who will play at the Empire Theatre on March 16, has long been an almost legendary figure. He was the first of the new school of European violinists who set out to show that the reputedly unique technical feats of the great Paganini were not unique at all. Kubelik was not only the first of the "new" violinists to invade these shores. He quickly established himself as by all odds the greatest violinist of his generation. His American concert tours were a succession of triumphs which lasted until the advent of the Great War.

"LOVE ME FOREVER" COMING TO COLUMBIA

DECIDES DRIVER WAS IMPRUDENT

Magistrate George Jay Finds J. C. O'Connor Guilty of Driving To Common Danger

In the Provincial Police Court yesterday, Magistrate George Jay disposed of a charge against James C. O'Connor of having driven to the common danger when a collision occurred early on the morning of March 1 near the Chanticleer Farm, in which two automobiles were damaged to considerable extent. The accused was found guilty of not taking due precaution to avoid an accident and was fined $25 and $2.50 costs.

R. B. Gane, of Signal Hill, was traveling northward on the Island Highway when he met a number of cars coming from a dance at Colwood. The accused, it was alleged, had evidently sought to pass the cars in front of him and turned out for that purpose. It was alleged he was sufficiently out of the line of travel to come in collision with Mr. Gane's car.

The accused, however, denied this accusation. He maintained that he was traveling on his own side of the road and had no intention of passing. He felt that the oncoming car had plenty of room to pass.

When the two cars collided, the one driven by Mr. Gane became unmanageable and cut into the line of cars. The first one behind that driven by Mr. O'Connor escaped, but one, driven by G. W. Fairall was struck and damaged. H. W. Davey appeared for the accused and argued there was doubt as to which car was over the centre mark of the road. The magistrate, however, felt that the accused was to blame. Gordon Cameron watched the case for Mr. Gane, with Sergeant Richard Harvey prosecuting.

Fans Up in Air Over Actions of Football League

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 4. — A sudden interlude in the tension of troubled Europe has struck Britain, blasting politics, Hitler and Mussolini off many front pages for a "crisis" nearer home.

The hue and cry arose over an attempt by the National Football League to banish giant betting pools—form-sheet forecasts on the weekly soccer matches, operated by 285 major pools.

Britons are willing, with few audible grumbles, to pay $1.12 out of every $5 in their weekly salaries for income tax. They accept the "Dora," the war-time Defence of the Realm Act, which sends them home from the pub in the shank of the evening, at 10:30 or 11 o'clock each night.

But when the football league attempted to stop the "little man's little gamble," by running the football penny and sixpenny pools out of business, they rose up in arms.

Newspaper columns ordinarily devoted to "Letters to the Editor" suddenly went over entirely to blasts from indignant citizens wanting to know why they should be deprived of the chance to bet two cents against a possible return of a fabulous fortune.

CHANCES ARE SMALL

In vain newspaper editors called in mathematicians and informed readers that their chances of winning are only one in 500,000 for the popular twelve-match pool and one in 3,500,000,000 in the twenty-match pools.

Others pointed out that the pool promoters reap a clear 25 per cent profit from the $45,000,000 subscribed each season by the public. Still others called it the "biggest racket on earth."

The mushroom growth of the system is shown by the fact that one of the major pools, in Liverpool, started from bedrock less than a year ago and today employs 1,500 girls to handle the millions of coupons containing the "subscribers'" forecasts on the results of league matches.

Special machines have been invented for counting, tabulating and dispatching the lists, averaging about 1,750,000 letters each week.

DON MEADE'S STATUS NOW IN JEOPARDY

Famous Jockey Suspended For Remainder of Season At Hialeah Park

MIAMI, Fla., March 4 (AP). — Don Meade's future status as a jockey was placed in jeopardy today when the twenty-two-year-old contract rider for E. R. Bradley was suspended for the remainder of the Hialeah Park meeting, which closes Monday.

The ruling handed down by the stewards and passed on to the Florida Racing Commission for further action, called for only five days on the ground. It was intimated, however, that Meade's career in the saddle might be ended. He was charged with "unsatisfactory riding and violation of the rules of racing."

The stewards refused to amplify their ruling, stating any further information must come from the commission. Walter Donovan, secretary of the commission, said he had no comment to make, as he had not received the stewards' report. Meade also refused to discuss the matter.

A GREAT RIDER

Meade, the leading rider at Hialeah with thirty winners, was scheduled to ride seven horses today. The stewards forced him to cancel his engagements.

Considered a great money rider, Meade first came into prominence three years ago when he rode Bradley's Broker Tip to a disputed victory over Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Head Play in the Kentucky Derby. In a bitter stretch duel, he and Herbie Fisher, of Toronto, up on Head Play, engaged in almost everything except actually coming to blows. Both jockeys were suspended for ten days at the time.

Montrealer Tosses Count Polowski

In two straight falls, made in less time than it took Danno O'Mahony, Yvon Robert, of Montreal, dropped Count Casimir Polowski, veteran grappler. The count is shown on the mat as Referee Charlie O'Donnell tolls the fatal twenty for the final fall. Robert is poised for more action, as seconds of both men swarm into the ring for the free-for-all which followed the bout. The second and final fall came after only thirty-five seconds of wrestling, to bring the Canadian another step closer to a title bout.

THREE B.C. PLAYERS REACH THIRD ROUND ON EASTERN COURTS

Margaret Taylor, Defending Titlist, Dick Birch And Mrs. Anna Kier Patrick Remain in Running at Winnipeg—Eric Leney and Jack Underhill Are Beaten—Play Is Keen

By HERBERT HONEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WINNIPEG, March 4 — Miss Margaret Taylor, defending women's singles champion, led a select group of seasoned players safely through early play here today in the Canadian badminton championships.

The petite Kelowna, B.C., star joined smiling Rod Phelan, of Toronto, king of the men's division in the round before the semi-finals. Other champions survived spirited dueling in early play with performances that established them as favorites to reach the final round.

There were several upsets in the tournament, however, and several dark horses remained in the running to harass top-flight contenders. In the men's singles, Phelan trod a thorny path, beset by former champions playing at the top of their game. Miss Taylor, too, was promised stern opposition before reaching the haven of coronation.

A large gallery watched the sure-shot champions perform today and several provincial titleholders felt the sting of the defence flash. Robert Pentland, of Calgary, fifteen-year-old Alberta singles champion, was eliminated in a stirring two-set match with Phelan, 15-0, 15-4.

JONES DEFEATED

Manitoba's ranks were riddled by the defeat of Jimmy Forsythe and Charlie Jones, finalist with Doug Grant for the Manitoba title this year. Forsythe was ousted by Jack Sibbald, of Woodstock, Ont., just when the Winnipegger appeared to be unbeatable. Jones' ill fortune arrived in the racquet-fire from Jack Storey, Toronto star.

The victory march of black-haired Douglas Grant was no surprise to the gallery, who watched the twenty-three-year-old former champion romp through his opposition today. Many picked him to regain the title he lost by default last year. Spotted alone in the first round, he breezed through early opposition and reached the fours with a 15-9, 15-7 win over Joe Zaharko, Toronto.

Jack Underhill, of Vancouver, showed the form that carried him to the title in 1928 and 1932. He caught a tartar in his third-round match with young Jack Nash, however. The young London ace carried the bespectacled Pacific Coast star to three sets before he relinquished his claim to advancement.

Beverley Mitchell, of Ottawa, and R. E. "Dick" Birch were other seeded players to reach the round before the semi-finals. The young Ottawan displayed all the court craft that won him a place in the 1935 final, when he eliminated brilliant Eric Leney, of Duncan, B.C., in the third round.

Birch was given a stout assignment in his third-round joust with Ernie Long, of Winnipeg. Only his smashing mid-court game carried him through in the closing stages. Previously he stroked his way to an easy two-set victory over J. R. Colby, strong Winnipeg player.

KELOWNA GIRL ADVANCES

In the women's singles, Miss Taylor and Mrs. W. R. Walton, of Toronto, 1935 finalists, were seeded in opposite ends of the draw. Both won first and second matches without much difficulty.

The little Pacific Coast southpaw demonstrated she has lost none of her net wizardry by hurdling the clever Peggy Aitkens, 1935 Alberta singles titleholder, 13-11, 14-9. Previously she eliminated Miss N. Stephens, of Winnipeg, 11-5, 11-4.

Margaret and Ruth Robertson had easy victories in first and second-round matches, but Miss Kennedy was carried to three sets before subduing hard-hitting Miss Doreen Clapperton, of Calgary.

J. E. Sibbald and L. K. Coles, of Woodstock, defending titleholders, got a bye in the first of the men's doubles event. A. E. Snell and D. Bracken, of Winnipeg, along with J. Forsythe and D. Grant loom as formidable opponents.

B.C. CURLERS ARE BEATEN

Lose Tough Match to Saskatchewan—Manitoba and New Brunswick Lead

TORONTO, March 4 (CP) — Ken Watson's Winnipeg Strathconas of Manitoba and a New Brunswick foursome, skipped by R. K. (Red) Shives, from Campbellton, took the lead tonight at the two-thirds mark in the Dominion championship Macdonald's Brier curling bonspiel.

Manitoba won its fifth victory in six starts tonight, defeating Nova Scotia, 14-9, while New Brunswick upset Ontario, 11-9. It was the second defeat for Ontario, shoving Hec Cowan's Sarnians into a second-place tie with British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

In other night matches, Saskatchewan defeated British Columbia, 10-9, as Skip Les Youngson made a great draw with his last shot. Quebec handed Prince Edward Island a sixth consecutive defeat, 16-13, and Alberta turned aside Northern Ontario, 9-8, on an extra end.

SIX HAVE CHANCE

With three rounds of play billed for tomorrow, six of the ten starters will commence the final day with a chance to finish on top—Manitoba, New Brunswick, British Columbia, Ontario, Alberta and Saskatchewan. The others have no chance.

A rousing finish was put on tonight by Saskatchewan at the expense of British Columbia. The Pacific Coast rink started the final end one up and seemed certain to get no worse than a tie, with a chance at an extra end, when Youngson put down his last shot.

Peterson Signs For Fight With McAvoy in April

LONDON, March 4 (CP).—Jack Peterson signed today to defend his British Empire heavyweight boxing championship against Jack McAvoy for a purse of approximately $45,000. The bout will be held at Earls Court Stadium in the last week of April.

Barney Ross Will Fly to the Coast Today for Fight

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP).—World Welterweight Champion Barney Ross will leave tomorrow night by airplane for Vancouver, where he will meet Gordon Wallace, Canadian welterweight titleholder, in a ten-round non-title bout March 11.

Ross, apparently in excellent condition, boxed four rounds today with an assortment of sparring partners, and will take his last workout tomorrow afternoon. He weighed 143 pounds after today's drill, in which his work was impressive.

Ross and his co-managers, Sam Pian and Art Winch, will hurry back to Chicago after the Vancouver engagement to make preparations to go to Sydney, Australia, where the young champion will defend his title in May.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

In a class of basketball peculiar to themselves, which is far from being an exhibition of the first-class game, the North Ward quintette was victorious against the Columbia Collegians last night at the Institute Hall by the score of 27-24. As far as scoring went, it was nip and tuck throughout, but occasionally stops had to be made for injuries.

Each man of both teams was so closely checked that he had hardly a chance to get the ball when it was fairly passed to him, it invariably rolling to the lucky player who happened to be in front of his check.

Columbia College were not given a chance to show their shooting or combined abilities as they did the night before with the Y.M.C.A. McArthur, however, for the visitors, got high score with nine points. The second half was even in scoring, each team getting a total of fourteen points.

• •

In the exhibition basketball match between the East Ends and the Capitals at the former's hall on Friday evening, the Capitals were successful by a score of 40 to 19 points. The winners had the best of the argument all the way through.

The respective teams, with their scoring, follow.

Capitals—Guards, Brynjolfson (3) and C. James (2); centre, T. Townsley (7); forwards, A. Pike (19) and R. Bray (9).

East Ends—Guards, F. Levy and N. Crogran; centre, Tommy Burns (4); forwards, E. Wall (9) and McIlmoy (6).

England was victorious against the Irish here on October 19, winning 3-1, and Scotland gained a 2-1 decision at Edinburgh a month later.

The team to play against Wales follows:

Goal, Scott (Belfast Celtic); fullbacks, Cook (Everton), Fulton (Belfast Celtic); halfbacks, Gowdy (Hibernians), Jones (Hibernians), Browne (Leeds United); forwards, Kernaghan (Belfast Celtic), Stevenson (Everton), Bambrick (Chelsea), Doherty (Manchester City), Kelly (Derry City).

New Rules and Changes Are Proposed for Rugby

Endorsed by Vancouver and Victoria Unions and the British Columbia body, changes and new rules for the oval ball code are to be submitted to the International Rugby Board at Twickenham, England, for final ratification before they become law, by H. J. Ketchen, secretary of the B.C.R.U.

Brainchilds of the Victoria and Vancouver referees' boards, the changes and new rules were submitted to the British Columbia referees' board for their opinion and were adopted. They were subsequently presented to the two unions for endorsation and met with the approval of both bodies.

The changes are to do with the off-side and tackle rules, and are introduced with a view to opening up the game, while the new rules are suggested to overcome certain conditions which have proved to the game's disadvantage in the past.

ENDORSED LOCALLY

Officials of the Victoria Rugby Union gave the rules their endorsement with little or no discussion, and it is understood that the same action was taken on the Mainland.

Further action in the matter will await the ruling and decision of the International Rugby Board at Twickenham, England, where the changes and the rules will be given the final check over.

Very little comment has been made locally on the suggested changes and new rules, those in charge feeling more inclined to await the final decision of the international board.

The brief on the suggested changes and new rules, as submitted to the unions, follows.

THE CHANGES

The following change of rules and new rules have been brought up with the idea of having the B.C.R.U. submit same to Twickenham.

1. That the Law 17B, governing offside round the scrum shall be amended to read as follows. "A player is offside if while the ball is in a scrummage he, not being in the scrummage, remain with either foot in front of the line of feet of his front row forwards."

2. That the definition of a tackle be amended to read as follows: "When a player in possession of the ball is so held that he cannot pass or play the ball, or when a player is grasped and brought to the ground with the ball still in his possession, it shall constitute a tackle, except when a player and ball without coming to rest, slide over their opponents' goal line when a try must be awarded." Law 16 (Tackle) to be amended to comply with the above and the following note added thereto: "In order to prevent "wrestling" when a player is tackled, the referee shall indicate to the player that the ball is held by giving verbal instructions to "play the ball."

SUGGESTS TIMEKEEPER

3. That provision be made for the appointment of a timekeeper who shall be the sole judge of time. The timekeeper shall not be the referee or either of the touch judges."

4. That a new law be inserted giving the referee the power to order a man off the field for the balance of a half, or balance of a game, as he decides, without the matter being reported to the union concerned for further action. This power would be intermediate between a penalty kick and the present rule concerning ordering a man off the field, and would be used in cases such as "persisten infringment."

5. That two substitutes be allowed up to the end of the first half only, for legitimate injuries. Where a substitute is used the injured player shall be debarred from all games for a period of two weeks, unless previously passed fit by medical certificate. The responsibility of making substitution shall rest with the captain of the team, and can be made any time during the first half.

Fords Win Over Assumption in Ontario Series

WINDSOR, Ont., March 4 (CP).—Fords won the City Senior Basketball series championship tonight and the right to represent this district in the Ontario play-downs, with a 41-33 victory over Assumption College, their rivals for the past nine years and last year's Eastern champions.

Each team had won two games in the best three of five series, and tonight's game was the deciding one. More than 2,000 fans, the biggest basketball crowd of the season, filled Kennedy Collegiate gymnasium for the game.

Kresges 2, Recreation Centre 2.

Fighting in defence of the Pendray Cup, emblematic of the Wednesday Football League championship, which they have held for the past two seasons, Spencers eked out a 2-1 victory over the Hudson's Bay yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in a stubbornly-contested fixture. The Diamond "S" boys, after gaining a 1-0 lead in the initial stanza, made it 2-0 soon after the resumption, and finally left the field on the right end of the score.

Brilliant netminding by Norm Stewartson, young goalie, particularly in the early stages of the first half, was responsible for the sweet victory gained by his clubmates. Stewartson turned in a masterful exhibition and many times saved shots that had goal written all over them.

Playing on the Heywood Avenue ground, Recreation Centre and Kresges battled to a 2-2 draw in another keenly-fought encounter. The clubs were deadlocked 1-1 when the half arrived, and added one goal each in the final half. It gave the clubs their first points in the Pendray Cup chase, but left them still bracketed in the uncoveted cellar position.

Opening a dangerous offensive right after the kick-off, Hudson's Bay gave Stewartson, Spencers' goalie, plenty of work, but he was on his toes and saved in fine style. George Wyatt, playing inside right for the Bays, rifled a shot at Stewartson from close range, and seconds later he saved from Wally Stewart, flashy left winger.

Bays were having the better of the play and a free shot by Les Kennedy, who turned in a sparkling performance at centre half, forced Stewartson to jump into the air to make a clearance.

Spencers finally settled down and forced play at the other end of the field and gained two corners in quick succession. Baxter conceded a third corner a few minutes later, when he was forced to dive to the corner of his goal to save from Collins.

Jimmie Oakman, right half for the Bays, left the field soon after with an injured knee, and, although he came back later, he limped around for the remainder of the match.

Stewartson saved another hot drive from George Wyatt and then at the other end of the field Baxter picked off Nicol's drive from close range. Keeping up the pressure, the Diamond "S" boys garnered the first marker of the match when "Shorty" Collins, after accepting Daryl Bissell's long pass, beat the Bays' defence and picked the corner of the net.

Feeling crept into the game at this stage, and a number of fouls were called on the players before halftime was reached, with Spencers leading 1-0.

Spencers resumed their offensive play as the final half opened, and increased their lead to 2-0 when Daryl Bissell headed the ball home after Brown had taken a flag kick.

Ten minutes later Hudson's Bay were awarded a penalty when Munroe fouled Holness in the forbidden area. Wally Stewart took the spot kick and drove the ball right at Stewartson, who held and cleared.

Keeping up the attacks, Hudson's Bay banged home their initial marker and their only score of the game three minutes later, when Harry Holness picked the centre of the goal after Stewartson had cleared from Stewart.

Minutes later Stewartson turned aside a terrific drive from Wally Stewart, and during the remainder of the match made other sparkling saves.

Spencers had a number of excellent scoring chances in this final canto, but their forwards failed to click, while shots that did go for the goal were turned aside by John Baxter.

Bays fought hard for the equalizing marker, but with Spencers refusing to give anything anyway the final whistle found the Diamond "S" boys on the long end of the score.

McMillan refereed and the teams were:

Spencers — Stewartson, Munroe, Cann, L. Bradley, Chapman, D. Bradley, Brown, Mail, Nicol, Bissell and Collins.

PLAY TO DEADLOCK

Battling to get out of the cellar, Recreation Centre and Kresges failed to come to a decision at Heywood Avenue ground, the final score being two-all. The store eleven had the best of the game and only fine work by Goalie Davis prevented them from taking the points. Davis, playing his first game in the mid-week league, turned in a clever performance. His smart judging of shots and clearances featured a game which was productive of good, bad and indifferent playing.

Although Kresges had the edge, the Recreation boys showed an improvement over their last appearance. However, their forwards lacked co-ordination, the right wing being noticeably weak, while the rest of the boys relied on the kick-and-rush method of breaking through the opposing defence. Their two backs, Paul and Shouldice, broke up attacks at every chance and to the best of their ability, but again their halves were slow and failed to feed their front line.

HAVE BIG EDGE

Kresges had a big edge as the game opened and were continually forcing corner kicks. Fred Stokes, right winger, who turned in a fine game, had six flag kicks presented to him and not once did he waste any of them. However, despite all this attacking, it was left for Recreation Centre to open the scoring, Mowat converting from Headdy's corner kick. Kresges continued to press after this goal, but Davis was a hard man to beat and they were held scoreless until ten minutes from the interval, when Don Newell scored the prettiest goal of the match. He engineered through by himself but his shot was blocked by Paul. Recovering fast again he circled back and caught the top of the net with a beautiful left-footer.

Play slowed up and became ragged in the second half, with Kresges doing the attacking. Well into the session Stokes cut in from his wing and his rising shot deflected off Paul into the net to put the store eleven in front for the first time. Their lead was short lived, as Walter Spaven, left winger, equalized not long after when he picked the top of the rigging from Headdy's corner kick.

Shrimpton refereed and the teams follow:

Recreations: Davis, Paul, Shouldice, Bechizza, Moyes, Clarke, Headdy, Bachelor, Mowat, Smith and Spaven.

LOU MARSH OF TORONTO STAR PASSES AWAY

Widely-Known Sports Editor Dies Unexpectedly—Had Great Career

TORONTO, March 4 (P).—Lou E. Marsh, sports editor and columnist of The Toronto Daily Star, who lived his life on the inner rim of the sports wheel, died suddenly here today. He was the most widely known of Canadian sports writers, achieving an international reputation as a hockey and boxing referee.

For many years he attended major sports events throughout Canada, the United States and Europe for The Star, and wrote of them in inimitable fashion. He used crisp, broken sentences to dramatize situations in the ring, on the track and the water.

Marsh worked on The Star since he was eleven years old, starting as a delivery boy. His formal education, he used to say, "didn't count." He learned the language of boxers and other athletes as a boy, and his facile use of picturesque phraseology made "With Pick and Shovel," his daily column, something apart.

The last Marsh column appeared in The Star six days ago. The white-haired sports editor collapsed in a downtown cafe last Thursday and was rushed home. A heart condition, which had caused him to give up all strenuous activity in recent years, became acute.

DEATH UNEXPECTED

Death was unexpected, however. Marsh planned to leave in a few days for Bermuda, to rest. Friends who visited him said he appeared tired and far from his rugged self. He was fifty-seven years old.

The spike on the sports editor's desk held no sketch of Marsh's life. When his death was announced a few minutes before the final deadline, a shocked editorial department was only able to rush a two-column cut on the front page with the bare announcement.

To the last he was a defender of amateur sport, although he knew as well as the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada's most rabid critics that hundreds of athletes accepted money for competing under the A.A.U. banner. The last sentence of his last "With Pick and Shovel" column read:

"There are still ten times as many clean amateur teams in the Ontario Hockey Association as there are teams which are smirched with the tar brush of professionalism!"

While Marsh was one of the National Hockey League's most capable referees for years, he was just as happy watching or refereeing good junior game. He looked back on his own days as an amateur hockey official with many a laugh and a few shudders.

Torchy Peden Knocked Unconscious

This pedal pusher went round and round till he went out cold. It's "Torchy" Peden, and the Victoria redhead got mixed up in a tangle of broken bikes and falling riders when the drive chain of his machine snapped during the six-day race in New York, and he ended up at the bottom of the board track unconscious. His partner, Gerald Debaets, who had just relieved him, was also injured in the spill. While doctors worked over hurt riders, the rest of the field went pedaling on in the merry whirl.

Gregory Mangin In Semi-Finals Of Tennis Meet

NEW YORK, March 4 (P).—Prospects for the 1936 Davis Cup team went on display today as doubles competition dominated the United States indoor tennis programme.

Johnny Van Ryn, paired with Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N.J., to advance to the semi-final round. The combination's first victims were New York boys, James Fishbach and Howard Stephens, who yielded, 6-4, 6-3. Then they took the measure of Albert Law and Ray Palmer, Jr., also of New York, 6-1, 6-4, in a match which fairly bristled with spectacular play.

RAYMOND CAGERS SUFFER SETBACK

FORSGREN AND DAVIS SIGNED FOR TOP BOUT

Rugged Virginian Will Meet Mainlander in Main Event Of Mat Programme

"Wee" Willie Davis, 260-pound pachyderm from Norfolk, Virginia, and one of the tallest heavyweights now appearing on the Coast, will return to the Tillicum gymnasium Saturday evening to match holds with Jack Forsgren, rugged Vancouver fireman, in the eight ten-minute round main event of the weekly grunt and groan programme.

Promoter Fred Richardson, local wrestling impresario, yesterday signed the Virginian, and figures he has a top bout that will provide plenty of fireworks and action for local followers of the bone-bending game.

Forsgren will be making his first appearance of the present season at the local palace de squirm, when he steps into the ring to oppose Davis, towering grappler. Rugged and capable of taking plenty of punishment, the Mainlander should make things interesting for his opponent. He specializes on the Boston crab hold and has scored a number of impressive victories with this "pet" hold.

Davis, local fans will recall, grappled to a one-fall draw with Mayes McLain, former United States gridder, here a few weeks ago, when both men were counted out by Referee Griffin after a whirlwind and rough match. In Forsgren the Virginian will meet an opponent who has had considerable experience in the grappling pastime.

Stock and Bond Prices Gain at New York Mart

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP).—Although sporadic bursts of profit-taking shaded prices throughout the list in today's stock market, succeeding buying centred in industrial and miscellaneous shares sent many issues to the highest point in five years and extended the recent upward trend.

There were minor adjustments to bring prices in line with traders' interpretation of the Roosevelt taxation proposals.

Steady pressure of buying and selling sent total transactions to 3,011,250 shares, compared with 2,750,910 shares on the previous day.

Outstanding performer on the up side was Allied Chemical, which added 8 1-2 points at 189 1-2.

Others which advanced toward the average outside limit—some 3 points—included American Can at 128, International Harvester at 72 and Santa Fe at 77 1-2.

Just before the close of the market, a surge of profit-taking struck Chrysler, which lost all its gain piled up since the opening and went below the line for a loss of 2 points. It rallied to end with a major fractional decline at 99 3-4.

A lively demand for obligations of the United States Government at advances up to 1-8 of a point stood out against a dull and slightly irregular corporate bond market today.

The foreign department was dull and featureless. Argentina 6's sold at par, up slightly, while Japanese and Italian loans eased off a trifle.

TORONTO MINES CLOSE HIGHER

Silvers Gain Sharply—Other Listings Firm Well in Late Trading

TORONTO, March 4 (CP).—After heaviness, the mining list of the Toronto Exchange tightened up late today to put the weight of price changes on the up side.

The late session saw a pick up in the silvers, due evidently to the announcement Washington was prepared to buy silver from Canadian mines at the current market price. Eldorado and Nipissing advanced 5 cents each.

Coniaurum, Cariboo, Canadian Malartic, Pamour and Prospectors Airways gained. Teck Hughes and Hollinger also closed higher, while Lakeshore lost 3-4. Dome 1-4 and McIntyre 3-8.

Noranda was up 1-4. Falconbridge, Sudbury Basin, Venture and Mining Corporation up 3 to 6 cents each.

Homestead gained 4 cents and Royalite lost 1-4.

WHEAT PRICES TURN UPWARD

Substantial Export and Mill Buying Lifts Futures at Winnipeg Exchange

WINNIPEG, March 4 (CP).—Wheat futures showed firmer trends on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Tuesday, at the close standing 1-4 to 3-4 cent higher. May closed at 83 1-2, July 84 1-2 and October 84 3-4 cents.

Substantial export and mill buying were factors in the fractional advances. Estimates placed the sale of Canadian wheat during the session and overnight at more than 1,500,000 bushels.

Offerings, attributed in the early stages to the Wheat Board, were absorbed without difficulty in a session which opened with active trading. Operations in spreads, involving sale of May and purchase of July wheat, were also in evidence.

Odd-lot trading was reported in the cash wheat market. Rye led the trading in coarse grains.

Industrials Except Smelters Easier at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, March 4 (CP).—Consolidated Smelters established a five-year high of 251 on Montreal Stock Exchange today, but the remainder of the list sagged in featureless trading.

International Nickel finished off 1-4 at 51 1-4. Hollinger firmed slightly and Noranda held even.

Good demand sent a couple of utilities fractionally higher, with Power Corporation, Quebec and Southern Power on the up side.

National Breweries preferred and Canadian Industrial Alcohol were down 1-2 and 1-8, respectively.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, March 4 (CP).—The Toronto industrial share market headed downward today.

Consolidated Smelters, up 3 points to 250, opposed the general trend, while Nickel declined 5-8. Ford "A" closed at 26 1-2. C.P.R. and Brazilian followed with losses of 1-8 and 3-8, respectively.

Losses in the oils were limited to 1-4 for Imperial and 1-8 for British-American. Distillers-Seagrams lost 5-8 to 29, and Industrial Alcohol "A" declined the minimum fraction. Walkers common closed at 32 1-2.

Canadian Bakeries preferred and Canners first preferred added a point each. Bell Telephone gained 1 1-4.

VICTORIA COLLEGE NEWS

Members of the Players' Club of Victoria College are putting the finishing touches on the play "Madame Pepita," which they will present in the Victoria High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings. Major L. Bullock-Webster, director of the play, is very pleased with the work done so far, and is confident that this year's presentation will be even more successful than those of the past.

The Students' Council will be host to the college players and all others connected with the play at the college after the last performance of "Madame Pepita" on Saturday night. Dancing will be enjoyed until midnight, when supper will be served. After that, speeches will be given. Cicely Holmes, secretary of the Student' Council, has already issued invitations to this affair.

The International Relations Society met in the college library recently and heard addresses by three students. Miss Iris Corbould spoke on "By Pacific Means," Struan Robertson on "International Delusions," and Douglas Strang on "The British Way to Recovery." The meeting was well attended both by students and members of the faculty. The next meeting of this society will be held on Wednesday, March 11, Chairman James Colbert announced.

Considerable feeling has been aroused by the decision of the Students' Council to rank all sports at the college equal. Formerly Rugby was the only major sport, but this year participants in all the sports have requested that theirs be made major only. Under the present ruling, the best players in each will receive major crests, instead of all the players of one branch of athletics. This will, the Students' Council feels, give everyone an equal chance to obtain the highly-coveted major crest.

PROMINENT VISITOR

Dean Buchanan, head of the faculties of Arts and Science at U.B.C., paid a short visit to Victoria College recently. A special assembly was called at noon so that he might address the student-body. The Dean was introduced by Professor P. H. Elliott, principal, and thanked, after his address, by George Gregory, president of the Students' Council.

John Aldous, editor-in-chief of the college annual, The Craigdarroch, last week announced that the essay contest which the annual board is now conducting, will be concluded shortly and urged any students who were planning to enter to do so at once. There has been a good response to date, but many more contributions are expected before the entries finally close.

Since the Students' Council put a ping-pong table in the women's main common-room, many interesting games have been played. The women have formed a club and have elected Miss Betsy McCallum president.

WON BADMINTON TITLE

The Victoria College badminton team won first place in the Fourth Division of the Lower Island Badminton Championships. Meeting with two defeats all season, the college club leaves a fine record to next year's players. College led the Y.M.C.A. and Hillcrest teams by two points. The latter has held the championship for the last three consecutive years. The college team comprised David Waddell (captain), Harvey Ozard, Paul Henderson and Tom Branson; Audrie Thwaites, Annie Turner, Jean McLaurin and Wendy Baillie; spares were George Dunlop and Marshia Alexander.

At the regular meeting of the Men's Debating Society on Friday noon, the recent decision of the Students' Council concerning the awarding of major crests was discussed. Four members of the Students' Council attended the meeting and supported their decision, and were successful in convincing part of their audience that their plan was in the best interests of the college. Others, however, were not willing to agree that this was so: those not in favor of the decision are now definitely in the minority. Members of the Rugby team who will now receive minor crests, where they would formerly have been awarded major ones, have shown admirable sportsmanship in agreeing that the decision is best for the college in general.

NOMINATIONS RECEIVED

Nominations for positions on the Students' Council for the year 1936-1937 were received at the Council Room all last week. There was an unusually large number, so the students will have a wide choice on the election day, Monday, March 9. Those nominated are:

For president — Struan Robertson (acclamation).

For secretary—Lois Harris, Doris Manning, Kathleen Riley, James Robertson, Isabel Sullivan and Berly Wharton.

For treasurer—Esmond Horne and Thomas Pepper.

Those nominated will be given an opportunity to address the student body at the annual Alma Mater meeting today.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

The Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Heights, Victoria, B.C.

The gross tonnage of a vessel is figured by measuring the interior of the ship to ascertain its internal volume, and then dividing the total by 100 to obtain the tonnage. One hundred cubic feet is figured, according to this system of measuring, as being equal to one ton.

WIFE CALLS TO GET HER COAT OUT. SHE'LL BE RIGHT DOWN GETS COAT AND HOLDS IT READY FOR WIFE TO SLIP INTO
NOTHING HAPPENS. WIFE CALLING SHE'LL BE DOWN IN A MINUTE, SHE HAD TROUBLE WITH HER HAIR
WIFE APPEARS AT LAST. FUMBLES HURRIEDLY WITH COAT TO GET IT RIGHT WAY UP TO HOLD FOR HER
GETS IT STRAIGHTENED OUT AND FINDS SHE HAS GONE TO TELL AUNT SUE WHAT TO DO IF BABY WAKES UP
WIFE RETURNS, PUTS AN ARM IN, CLASPS SHOULDER STRAP, EXCLAIMS SHE FORGOT TO PIN IT, AND RUNS UPSTAIRS
WAITS, HOLDING COAT
WIFE GETS INTO COAT AT LAST, AND SAYS SHE'LL BE MUCH TOO WARM, HE'D BETTER GET HER LIGHT COAT OUT, WHILE SHE'S GETTING A HANDKERCHIEF

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

BONUS

The boys are not getting a bonus after all—at least, that is what the New York City Board of Taxes and Assessments has discovered

Before the deluge of protests begins to pour, let all concerned be hurriedly assured that here, as elsewhere, the Chinese proverb still holds good—nothing is as bad as it seems.

It appears that the Board, fearing that advantage would be taken of a local law which provides that property purchased with the "proceeds of a bonus granted by the United States for military or naval service" is to that extent exempt from taxation, declared, Congress notwithstanding, that the recent enactment was "adjusted compensation"—and not a bonus.

The Board apparently counted without its hosts who have suddenly become etymologically interested, pointing out:

We have "bonus" from the identical Latin word meaning "good"—and isn't that apropos. And in the case at point, "bonus" is properly defined as "money paid in addition to a stated compensation; an allowance in addition to what is usual, correct or stipulated."

LINDBERGH MAY BRAVE THE GHOST OF CAXTON

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—The Daily Express said today Col. Charles Lindbergh and his family are planning to live in "Long Barn," at Sevenoaks in Kent.

The eighteen-room house is reported by some to be haunted by the ghost of Caxton, who, according to the story, upsets his printing-press every moonlit night in the room where he was born.

Jane Dixon Says:

[illegible]NDSHIP IS NOT EXPRESSED IN TERMS OF MONEY—THE [illegible]E OF THE WOMAN WHO IS EMOTIONALLY MINUS

My fav[illegible] day: The Round-Up.

Puzzled Mo[illegible] Of course your daughter did the right thing when she sent back a gift [illegible] money from the young man. If he was too discourteous or too lacking [illegible] imagination to select a gift for your daughter, he is very low grade [illegible] go, and he should be checked off the list of kind or courteous peop[illegible] A gift should express thought and affection. In my opinion the young [illegible] is very cheeky, unless he knew that money was needed in your home. [illegible] have your daughter tell him that friendship is not expressed in terms o[illegible]ey, and that friends feel pretty low when those for whom they have aff[illegible] treat them in such a material and nonchalant manner.

Mac: I've never yet heard of anyone being shot for [illegible]ing to do the normal and the regular thing. Why not propose to the y[illegible] woman you love so much? Has it occurred to you that a man pays the [illegible]mate compliment to a woman when he asks her to be his wife? If she la[illegible]s at you, that would be her bad luck and her bad taste, not yours. From your letter I would say that either the young woman is hyper-sensitive and an egoist, or that she is not interested in you emotionally. You might be able to cure her complex, but you'll never do anything about the emotional minus. Emotion is born, not made.

Throb Heart: Any man who "jerks" you away from a conversation, whether it is with his brother or the King of Siam, has a mean temper and cannot be depended upon for happiness. He might call me darling to the end of my life, but what I would say to him is: "Yes, stranger."

LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP

Desperate: You are not to blame. We've all been under terrific strain during these lean years, and only the fittest of us will survive. So your fiance told you about how you hurt him by dancing with an old and tried friend. Did he ask you about how he had hurt you by going places and doing things? In my humble opinion the man does not love you in the way love must work if marriage is to be a success. I love my husband. I could not under any circumstances, be unkind to him or play the game—if we can call it that—stepping out to show him how independent I am of our love. Don't be miserable over the crack-up of your engagement. Your misery would come with marriage to a man who can't be fair to the woman he professes to love.

New Jersey: You are not running after a friend if you write and tell him you miss not hearing from him. That is a gesture of friendship, and cannot possibly be criticized. It is our right to retain our friendships and to discover, if possible, any interference with their continuation.

Sue: I'm not in the least interested in your young man, and I'm afraid I shall not be interested in you either unless you get some spirit into you. No woman takes a man by the hand and leads him away unless he wants to be led. Never mind what he tells you he likes. It's what he does that he likes.

Lonesome: I can't help you, my dear. You must help yourself. You are at home and lonesome because you have failed to interest your companions. Why not try to make yourself over? Be a bit reckless. Unlax. Get a bright dress if you can afford it; do your hair a new and startling way. Whomever you meet, get them talking about the thing in which they are most interested—and you be interested, too. Sincere interst shines on our faces and in our eyes with a brightness that's bound to be interesting.

I'M SORRY, MARY, BUT OUR RECORDS SHOW THAT THE FIRST NOTICE OF THE RIVER GANG BEING IN THE OLD WAREHOUSE CAME DIRECT FROM COUNCILMAN LOOTER.

BUT I NOTIFIED OFFICER KLUMP, AND HE TOLD ME HE CALLED POLICE HEADQUARTERS.
KLUMP WAS A DISGRACE TO THE FORCE, AND HAS BEEN DISCHARGED.
LOOKS TO ME AS IF THEY WERE WORKING TOGETHER BEFORE HE WAS KICKED OFF THE FORCE.
HE'S WORKING FOR LOOTER NOW, SO YOU WON'T GET MUCH HELP FROM HIM.
MARTHA ORR
JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME, MARY, I HOPE YOU'RE RIGHT. I'D LIKE TO HELP YOU, BUT WE HAVE TO GO BY OUR RECORDS HERE, AND THEY FAVOR LOOTER IN THIS CASE.

Cardinals and West Saanich Cagers Win Island Hoop Honors

Chalk Up Decisive Victories Over Nanaimo Quintettes at High School Gymnasium—Kingham-Gillespie Takes Lead in Initial Play-Off

West Saanich Mercantiles marched to the Vancouver Island men's senior "B" hoop championship yesterday evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium, when they defeated visiting Nanaimo cagers, 73-54, in the final game of the two-game series. The Saanich lads won the first fixture played on the Up-Island court, 36-33, and the series, 109-87.

Next Wednesday evening, West Saanich Mercantiles will meet the Mainland champions in a sudden death game for the British Columbia men's senior "B" title at the Victoria High School gymnasium.

COAL MEN WIN

Kingham-Gillespie, Lower Island and city intermediate "A" boys' champions, turned in an impressive performance against the Nanaimo cagers, to take the first game of the home-and-home series for the Island title by a 53-19 score. The second fixture will be played at the Up-Island city tomorrow evening. Total points will decide the winners.

Jack Taylor's Cardinals marched to their third Vancouver Island championship by defeating Drawettes, 44-14, in the final game of the two-game series. The clubs played to a 35-35 score in the initial encounter at Nanaimo, last week.

After trailing their Nanaimo opponents for eight minutes of the initial half, West Saanich Mercantiles turned on the heat in the final attraction, and after once going to the front were never headed. They were scoring baskets from all angles and distances, and when the breather arrived the score board stood 48-28 in their favor.

Nanaimo, fighting to stay in the running for British Columbia honors, fought back with determination in the last stanza, and twice sliced the Mercantiles' lead to ten points; but this was the nearest they ever came to winning the fixture.

In the final half, West Saanich Mercantiles lost Karl Young, high-scoring tip-off ace; Clarence Sluggett and Charlie Sluggett, on personals; while Nanaimo lost Emerick on four fouls.

HIGH SCORER

J. Naylor, lanky centre for the visitors, was the high scorer on both squads, with nineteen points to his credit, and was closely followed by Young, of the local squad, with eighteen points. Ralph Michell, West Saanich forward, was next in the scoring ranks with seventeen points.

T. Macedo (Victoria) and A. Honeymoon (Nanaimo) refereed, and the teams were:

West Saanich Mercantiles — E. Butler, C. Sluggett (13), W. Butler (2), Michell (17), C. Sluggett, Lannon (9), Young (18) and C. Sluggett (14). Total, 73.

Nanaimo—Walford (1), Robinson (4), Brown (5), Naylor (19), Rafter (8), Houson (3), Emerick (3), Brown (4) and Hall (7). Total, 54.

Taking the lead one minute after the start of the fixture, Kingham-Gillespie hoopsters were never headed by the visiting Nanaimo quintette and won the fixture, 53-19.

Shooting with deadly precision and ball handling like champions, the coalmen piled up a 36-10 lead as the squads reached the breather. In the final half the locals caged seventeen points and Nanaimo nine.

OUTPLAY NANAIMO

Kingham-Gillespie outplayed their Up-Island opponents at practically every turn, especially in the initial session. They were dropping the ball home from all angles, and forcing the Nanaimo cagers to shoot from long range.

Barber, Johnson and Turner accounted for forty of the fifty-three points gained by the coalmen, but the whole squad played bang-up ball from gong to gong.

Denton, slender-built young forward, was Nanaimo's best scoring threat and caged ten of their nineteen points.

H. Green, Nanaimo, and B. Macmurchie, Victoria, refereed, and the teams were:

Kingham-Gillespie — Barber (15), Turner (12), Dale (8), Johnson (13), Phillips (2), Allen, Berry (3), and McConnell. Total 53.

Nanaimo — Anderson (4), Robinson (3), Johnstone, Russell, Denton (10), Dickinson (2), Niven, Largue and Rogers. Total 19.

CARDINALS WIN

Piling up a 21-4 lead in the initial stanza, Jack Taylor's Cardinals waltzed through to a 44-14 victory over Nanaimo Drawettes, in the intermediate "A" girls' play-downs.

Better shooting, closer teamwork and smarter ball handling brought the local champions through to an impressive victory.

"Bing" Crosby and V. Hannan, with fifteen and thirteen points, respectively, led the local scoring brigade.

L. Rogers caged six points to top the visitors.

Tommy Macedo, Victoria, and A. Honeymoon, Nanaimo, refereed, and the teams were:

Cardinals—M. Wells, J. Trotter (6), V. Hannan (13), D. O'Connor (6), J. Milliken, B. Crosby (15), and V. Hall (4). Total 44.

Nanaimo—D. Beban, B. Monk, L. Rogers (6), J. Gunniss (2), V. Beban, M. Horne, A. Dagg (4), E. Watson (2), and M. McGlinchy. Total 14.

Lake Cowichan News

LAKE COWICHAN, March 4.—Owing to weather conditions, there were not as many visitors at the opening of the fishing season as in former years, however, local fishermen had fair catches on the river.

Messrs. M. Fox and B. Miller, of Honeymoon Bay, brought in three fine cougars during the week-end, one exceptionally large one measuring eight feet six inches. This brings Messrs. Fox and Miller's total up to fourteen cougars since November 1.

WILL RACE TODAY

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 4 (AP).—The University of British Columbia oarsmen stroked their shell over the Willamette River course here today in preparation for their race tomorrow with the Oregon State crew.

The schools both are comparative newcomers to this old water sport.

Tomorrow's race, starting at 3:30 p.m., will be between 150-pound crews rather than the heavy oarsmen.

CELTIC ADVANCES

BELFAST, March 4 (CP).—After three second-round replays, Celtic advanced into the third round of the Irish Soccer Cup today with a convincing 5-1 win over Newry Town. The first two meetings resulted in 1-1 draws and they battled to a scoreless draw in the second replay.

Playing at Larne in a Belfast Cup game, Linfield trounced the hometowners, 6-1.

CANADIANS VICTORIOUS

PARIS, March 4 (CP).—The Canadian Olympic hockey team extended its string of victories in exhibition matches with European teams to nine tonight, defeating a representative French squad, 5-1.

Plans Completed For Indoor Meet At N. Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 4 (CP).—Announcement was made today of the completion of final details for the indoor track meet here on March 20 and 21, when British Columbia indoor track championships for men and women will be at stake.

Open events for men include the forty-yard dash, forty-yard hurdles, 100-yard, 300-yard, 600-yard, 1,000-yard and mile races; shotput and high jump. The senior relays include one of two laps each and one of a single lap for the individual runners.

There will be five events for senior women, including the forty-yard dash, forty-yard hurdles, 100-yard dash, high jump and a relay.

Students from British Columbia high schools and New Westminster elementary schools will compete in twenty-three events on the opening night.

Training Camp Gossip

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Lou Gehrig was anxious to get the hickory in his hands at the Yankee training camp today to see if he could do a little better in the way of giving the ball a ride than he did yesterday. Steve Sundra made Lou miss five successive balls that would have been called strikes in and league.

SAN ANTONIO—The Pirates' hospital list is being rubbed out and Pie Traynor is glad. Hal Finney, out for a year with bad eyes, is on the way for a comeback as catcher while Aubrey Epps, also catcher, seems to have recovered fully from a seige of pneumonia.

PASADENA, Cal.—George Haas, veteran outfielder, whose career appeared to be on the wane last season, has looked so good in training that he is expected to start this season in centre field for the Chicago White Sox. Recovered from injuries, he has been setting the pace in hitting drills.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The Athletics planned their second intra-camp game today, with the "Reds" out for vengeance after their 11 to 0 licking at the hands of the "Blues" yesterday. Higgings and Warstler still were holdouts and Wally Moses, reported signing, still had not shown up in camp.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Buck Newsom, in top pre-season form and smoking them over when manager Bucky Harris isn't looking, has been telling the lads around the camp he will pitch the season opener, April 13. Bucky hasn't heard him. Earl Whitehill will argue the point with Newsom.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Leroy Mahaffey took a turn on the mound and had fellow Browns talking today as though they thought he would be a regular on the St. Louis pitching staff. With Philadelphia's Athletics last year, Mahaffey won eight, lost four.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Casey Stengel is getting more exercise than his Dodgers it would seem. With more than twenty pitchers in camp, including rookies, Casey hit more than 400 grounders to them with a fungo bat, knocking down twenty for each one to field.

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Despite the fact that Manager Bill Terry was back in Memphis today, seeking to get his bum knee fixed up, there was no indication the boys in the Giants camp would let up in their training activities. Hank Leiber hasn't answered Terry's ultimatum.

LAKELAND — Alvin (General) Crowder is the first of the Tiger hurling staff to suffer wing trouble. The veteran, who showed up in camp minus his tonsils and ten pounds heavier, kinked his arm while trying for a double play in a scrub game.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—With twenty-six players in camp and not a holdout sighted, Manager Jimmy Wilson, of the Phillies, planned to concentrate for a while on building an infield.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 4 (AP).—The pitching debut of Walter Johnson, Jr., featured today's training camp session of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The son of baseball's former strike-out artist pitched nine innings in an intra-squad game and yielded only a single, that by the first man to face him. This, with his own wild throw, put him in a jam, but a double play prevented any scoring.

In his second inning he retired the side in order, tossing some of the season's first curves.

Kimberley Triumphs

TRAIL, B.C., March 4 (CP).—Kimberley Dynamiters, British Columbia senior hockey champions for the last two years, defeated Trail Smoke Eaters, 6-3, here tonight in the third game of the best-of-five-game provincial semi-final series. Each team previously won a game at Kimberley.

SEA HAWKS TAKE FIRST POSITION

SEATTLE, March 4 (AP).—Seattle's Sea Hawks, early season cellarites, tonight tightened their hold on first place by beating the Edmonton Eskimos, 4 to 1, leaving only Portland a mathematical chance of finishing first in the Northwestern Hockey League.

Opening with a goal in the first period, the Sea Hawks added one on a free shot in the second and then made doubly sure of victory by a brace in the third.

Art Towsend, assisted by Hank Dyck, scored Edmonton's lone tally in the last of the third and spoiled Goalie Emmett Venne's chance of getting his eighth shutout of the season.

The Seattle victory made it necessary for the Hawks to lose their remaining two games of the schedule and for the second-place Portland Buckaroos to win their three to move the Bucs into first place.

With All My Heart

BY SARA CHRISTY

SYNOPSIS

Thora Dahl, alone in New York, is seeking a position through an employment agency. She obtains the address, in the country, of Selwyn Marsh, an eccentric gentleman, seeking a housekeeper. Taking a train to Brookville, Thora walks to Fair Acres and reaches the Marsh home.

CHAPTER IV

A small woman appeared at the door of the Marsh home. She was elderly, dressed in black. Two beady eyes peered inquisitively from the thin face framed in straight iron-grey hair.

"Well?" came the curt question.

Thora caught her breath. For the first time, it flashed into her mind that perhaps there was a Mrs. Marsh, too. For some reason, she had not considered that possibility. Then she found her voice.

"I called to see Mr. Marsh . . ." she began, to amend hastily: "I mean, I heard he wished the services of a housekeeper. Can you tell me if he has engaged one?"

"No. He hasn't." The woman continued to stare. Waited.

"Then I should like to apply."

"You don't . . . Not for yourself!"

"Yes."

The beady eyes blinked.

"Why, you're only . . . Well, all right." The speaker retreated a step, opening the door wider. "You'll have to talk to Mr. Marsh. I've got nothing to say about it. Come in."

The door closed and Thora stood looking about a spacious hall. It seemed very nearly dark, coming from the brilliant sunshine outside.

"Mr. Marsh is in the library. This way."

Thora followed her conductor, whose heels were tapping smartly over the polished floor. Past a wide circular staircase, to a door at the far end of the hall.

"Here's somebody to see about my place, Mr. Selwyn!"

Oh! Then this woman was the housekeeper . . . or had been. It must be that she was leaving.

Before Thora had time to ponder this newest discovery, she found herself deserted on the threshold of a large room. She gained a quick impression of dark-paneled walls, rows of well-filled bookcases, two windows that extended from floor to ceiling. And there was a huge table littered over with papers, standing before a stone fireplace. At first glance, the room seemed without an occupant.

"Well, here I am," a harsh voice protested.

A tall man was watching her from a shadowy corner. His face showed oddly pale against the dark background. The girl was held by two eyes staring out from under a shock of tousled hair. Heavy brows drawn down in a forbidding scowl.

"You wanted to see me?"

The bewildered mind of Thora Dahl was capable of but one distinct impression.

Selwyn Marsh wasn't an old man after all!

Thora Dahl was given an opportunity to observe her prospective employer, for he strode to the swivel chair back of the long table and flung himself into it in an impatient manner.

She discovered that the thick wavy hair, which looked as if its owner had been running his fingers through it violently, was touched with grey at the temples. The face was lean, the lower jaw square, the mouth tight-lipped. A thin line of moustache, closely cropped. Hazel eyes, alert and searching. Mr. Marsh wore a dark house jacket and the collar of his soft white shirt lay open at the throat.

"Mrs. Myron says you're looking for a place here," he began abruptly. "Sit down there. What's your name?"

"Dahl." Thora seated herself on the other side of the big table.

"Spell that," was the impatient order. "Swede," Marsh decided, as his visitor complied quietly.

"It is Norwegian," she corrected.

"Sorry. I should have remembered that there is a considerable difference," Marsh apologized dryly. "All right, Miss Dahl, Norwegian, what befell your eye on the way across?"

"A cinder, I think. It happened on the train this morning."

"Come over into the light." He left his chair and walked to the nearest window. Thora Dahl found herself following unhesitatingly; Mr. Marsh gave one the impression that he was in the habit of having his orders obeyed. "Tip your head back . . . so. You'll really have to open that eye if you expect me to see what's in it. I'm not going to hurt you."

Thora had a confused impression of a firm hand grasping her chin, of those penetrating eyes very close to hers, fingers gently manipulating the inflamed eyelid.

"I see it. Stand still. I'll use a corner of my handkerchief. . . . It's clean."

Thora clutched involuntarily at Marsh's wrist as he conducted a swift operation. Even as she withdrew her hand, she was conscious how steady his fingers were.

"There you are. It's out. Don't wonder it hurt. Would you care to bathe your eye in cold water?"

"Oh, no." Thora blinked experimentally, favored her benefactor with a doubtful smile. "It feels much better. Thank you."

"All right. Sit down again and we'll talk. Did that Taggart woman send you here?"

"I should like to apply."

"No . . ." She hesitated, then decided to tell the truth. It seemed the only thing to do under the steady gaze of those eyes across the table. "Not exactly. Miss Taggart was kind enough to give me your name. She couldn't very well send me, because I had no references."

"And I wouldn't read them if you had an armful. What did she have to say about me?"

"Nothing." Thora could say that honestly. "She told me that she had not been able to furnish a satisfactory applicant. And, perhaps, I won't qualify either. But I should like to try." She ventured a hopeful smile. Everything seemed better now, with that hateful cinder gone.

"Well, you're not exactly what I would picture as a housekeeper. But Mrs. Myron is the only one I've ever had. Possibly I'm not a judge. How old are you?"

"I'll be twenty-five my next birthday."

"Um. . . . What was your last job?"

"Teaching a rural school in Minnesota."

"Good Lord! Whatever gave you the idea of trying this stunt?"

"I need a position. I couldn't get a school around here because nobody knows me. I can do almost anything about a home . . . I think. It's my only qualification. That is how I happened to go to the agency."

"You're rather original, at all events. Maybe you'd better tell me. . . . No, I'll tell you about us. The job may not appeal to you at all. Mrs. Myron has been here for over twenty years. She isn't well and I want to pack her off on an extended vacation. There are two in the family . . . my daughter and myself."

"I'm accustomed to children," Thora ventured. Marsh was staring at her as if he expected some response.

"You'd better not let Wilma hear you listing her in any such category. She must be all of nineteen. I haven't seen a great deal of her these past few years. She's due here shortly . . . getting back from a trip over to the other side. I've been hoping to get Mrs. Myron away before the turmoil begins. How soon could you take over?"

"Tomorrow morning, if you think you can give me a trial."

"Oh, that's settled."

SCIENTIFIC REPORT FAVORS BRAN

Relieves Common Constipation Safely

Read this statement, taken from an article in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, pages 133-134, Nov., 1932:

"The inclusion in the diet of a small portion of bran . . . would seem a very practical way of getting fiber which is not likely to be disintegrated. This bran has the additional advantage of furnishing a considerable amount of vitamin B and of readily available iron."

Exhaustive tests, over a period of five years, have proved Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to be a safe, effective way to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" or fiber in meals.

You will enjoy this pleasant way to prevent the dangers of constipation. You can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over salads, soups, or other cereals. Or cook into delicious breads and muffins.

Usually two tablespoonfuls apiece daily are enough to protect your family from common constipation. How much better than taking pills or drugs!

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. It is much more effective than part-bran products. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

The teacher was reading an essay which one of the boys had written on "Adventures in the Jungle."

She was being taken round the golf links by her boy friend. It was the first time she had played.

As they approached the flag on the last green he suddenly pulled up.

The girl gazed about her.

"Where?" she asked seriously. "I rather thought there was a funny smell around here."

VICTORIA WEST WORK REVIEWED

Brotherhood Re-elects Officers—Proposals Advanced for Improvements

Confidence in the 1935 executive and roster of officers was expressed by the Victoria West Brotherhood at its annual meeting held Tuesday night when all officers except one were re-elected for the 1936 term.

The officers are as follows: N. S. Fraser, president; Colonel A. E. Harris, vice-president; A. P. Cody Johnson, treasurer; H. Gard, secretary; H. B. Witter, auditor; executive members, Norman R. Hill, C. E. Rose, D. Campbell, A. R. Hooper, H. Shaw, and the officers already named.

Annual reports disclosed that much progress had been made during the year in connection with securing public works improvements for Victoria West district.

An effort will be made to secure the installation of an asphalt roller skating rink at Victoria West Park. This rink, it was explained, could also be used as a hard tennis court, and when flooded, for ice skating in the Winter. The school board also will be approached with a view to securing some improvements at the Victoria West School.

WANT SHORT CUT

Efforts to bring about an improvement to Craigflower Road from Craigflower Bridge into the city limits will be continued. Representation will be made to the Provincial Government to have the road declared an arterial highway, and have the Government improve that section which lies between Craigflower Bridge and the city limits.

The city in turn will endeavor to secure ownership from the Government of a triangular shaped piece of property adjoining Victoria West Park, which would permit the continuation of Wilson Street through to Tyee Road, which in turn connects with Johnson Street extension. Wilson Street joins Craigflower Road so that when the improvements are completed a short-cut of a mile and a half from the Island Highway into the city would be created.

NEW TAX WILL HURT GROWERS

Co-operative Concerns Manufacturing and Processing for Export Fear New Impost

Vancouver Island fruit canneries will be hard hit if they are compelled to come under the proposed health insurance measure. It was stated last night by a representative of the Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange.

Delegates representing the fruit canner co-operatives are seeking a meeting with the Government. They conferred with Norman Whittaker, member for Saanich, yesterday.

William Kersey, manager for the Vancouver Island Co-operative, pointed out that 90 per cent of all small fruits grown on the Island are exported in manufactured form. The industry is already handicapped by governmental regulations, which compel minimum wages, workmen's compensation and other charges. Vancouver Island fruit is in competition with fruits from other provinces in Canada which do not have to operate under similar regulations.

"The growers, who have patiently toiled to hold the export market, are now thoroughly disheartened by another load that must be borne by the returns on fruit," he stated.

"This additional 3 per cent charge which is demanded by compulsory health insurance will compel a return to conditions that forced a loss of 50 per cent of the loganberry tonnage" in the opinion of many of the growers," Mr. Kersey said.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Peter Rabbit Gets His Wish

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Jumper the Hare, who is Peter Rabbit's big cousin and had come down from the Great Woods of the North to live in the Green Forest, had seen very little of Peter lately because he disliked to leave the Green Forest, and ever since he had seen those strange tracks deep in the Green Forest, Peter had kept close to the dear Old Briar Patch. So Jumper had not heard Peter's story, which nobody believed, and about which everybody teased Peter whenever they saw him. One moonlight night Jumper took it into his head to visit his cousin and find out why he had been keeping so close to the dear Old Briar Patch.

First making sure that the way was clear, for Jumper is very, very timid, he scampered across to the Old Briar Patch as fas as his long legs could take him and was quite out of breath when he got there. He found Peter sitting under a bramble bush looking quite as miserable as he felt.

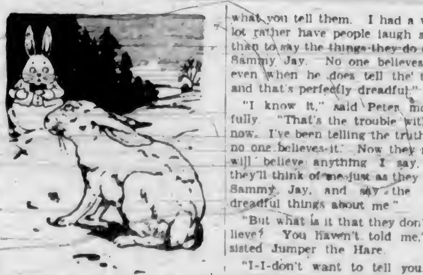
"Hello, Cousin Peter! Where have you been keeping yourself lately? I haven't seen you or your tracks in the Green Forest for days and days. Are you sick?" asked Jumper.

"No," replied Peter shortly. "I'm not sick, but I guess I will be if this keeps up much longer." Peter looked very glum and unhappy.

"If what keeps up?" asked Jumper, looking very much puzzled.

"Having everybody make fun of me every time I show myself, and nobody to believe what I say," replied Peter.

Jumper looked more puzzled than ever. "That is bad, Cousin Peter,"



"I-I knew you wouldn't believe me. Nobody does," said Peter sadly.

said he: "It's bad enough to be made fun of. I know all about that. Everybody makes fun of me because I have such long legs and because I am so timid. I've grown used to it now, but still I don't enjoy being laughed at. But it's a whole lot worse not to have people believe what you tell them. I had a whole lot rather have people laugh at me than to say the things they do about Sammy Jay. No one believes him even when he does tell the truth, and that's perfectly dreadful."

"I know it," said Peter mournfully. "That's the trouble with me now. I've been telling the truth and no one believes it. Now they never will believe anything I say, and they'll think of me just as they do of Sammy Jay, and say the same dreadful things about me."

"But what is it that they don't believe? You haven't told me," insisted Jumper the Hare.

"I-I-don't want to tell you, because probably you won't believe me, either," replied Peter. Now, this wasn't quite true. At least, part wasn't. He did want to tell. He fairly ached to tell. But he was afraid that Jumper wouldn't believe his story. But after Jumper had solemnly promised that he would believe, no matter how hard it was to, Peter told him all about his visit to the deepest part of the Green Forest and about the great, big, strange tracks he had found there, in the snow tracks as big as Farmer Brown's Boy's, only different, and showing the marks of great claws.

Jumper had pricked up his long ears at the mention of those strange tracks, and now he was sitting up very straight and staring at Peter with his eyes very wide open.

"I-I knew you wouldn't believe me. Nobody does," said Peter sadly.

"But I do!" cried Jumper. "I've seen tracks just like those lots and lots of times way off in the Great Woods where I came from. I was just surprised that there should be any down here in the Green Forest. Of course, I believe you, Cousin Peter. I think I will go and see them for myself. It's a long time since I have seen any."

"Oh, I'm so glad!" cried Peter, happily. At last his wish had come true—he had found someone to believe him. He was so happy over it that he quite forgot to ask Jumper who could have made the strange tracks.
